(At Montreal it was announced four planes had left R.C.A.F. No. 13 service flying training school at nearby St. Hubert on a night training flight. Single Men Up to 35 To Be Drafted

Gas Ration Cut To 4 Gallons

OTTAWA (CP)—Munitions Minister Howe announced in the House of Commons this afternoon the value of the gasoline ration unit will be reduced from five to four gallons in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, effective at midnight Thursday night.

The ration unit in the Maritime Provinces remains at two gallons for the time being, but Mr. Howe said "we hope to be in a position to raise the unit to three gallons in the Maritimes as of midnight June 30."

There is no change in the unit value in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. It remains at five gallons there "for the present."

New Category For 2-Car Owners

The minister also announced the setting up of a new and lower gasoline ration category, to be known as category "A-A." This category is to cover owners of more than one car in the present "A" category, and drivers who use their cars "entirely for pleasure purposes."

"It is obvious that these motorists should not receive as much gasoline as those who use their cars mainly in the earning of their livelihood," Mr. Howe said. Amount of gasoline which would be made available to cars in the new "A-A" category could not be made public now as the setting up of a new category took time, but the allowance would be announced in due course.

It will be less than the present 60 to 76 gasoline ration units available to cars now classed in "A" category.

"Because there are many thousands of farmers, industrial workers and business men now in category 'A,' the quarterly restriction of the coupon in this category will be abolished after midnight tonight," Mr. Howe said.

"This means that the category 'A' coupons in any quarter may be used at any time regardless of the date printed on them."

Reason for the change in the gasoline unit value in British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec was the decision to order refiners of crude oil to change their refinery runs so as to make available more fuel oil for heating purposes.

Plan to Build Up Fuel Oil Stocks

"By doing this we hope to build up sufficient stocks of fuel oil between now and Oct. 1 to provide for household heating equipment during the winter months," said Mr. Howe.

Oil heating equipment in commercial and industrial buildings, apartment houses, hotels, institutions and stores will not be allowed to use oil fuel after July 31, the minister said. This order applies also to all those using fuel oil for the production of steam.

"It must be understood, however, that even after these steps have been taken, no guarantee can be given that fuel oil for domestic heating equipment will be available to meet normal requirements, because it is impossible to say at this time whether sufficient tankers will be available to maintain a continuous supply of crude."

Victoria Catholics Ask Ban On Shields

Protests against the scheduled appearance here next Sunday and Monday of Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields, head of the Protestant League of Canada, and pastor of the Jarvis Street Baptist Church in Toronto, have been sent by Victoria Roman Catholics to the Minister of Justice, the City Police and to the Army Intelligence Office. The protest to the intelligence office has been made on the grounds that they contend his speeches elsewhere in Canada have been subversive.

Rev. J. C. Cody, Bishop of Victoria, led the protests with a night letter to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, to which no reply had been received up to this afternoon. His lead was followed by the 4th Degree Knights of Columbus, who also, according to one of its members, Frank Doherty, protested to the city police.

Catholic chaplains in the three services here have received strong protests from Catholic men and officers, who say that Dr. Shields in addressing anti-

Catholic gatherings throughout Canada has accused Catholics of fifth column tactics and a subversive attitude towards Canada's war effort.

A Catholic officer at the Gordon Head Officers' Training Camp, who would not be quoted, said there were 7,000 Catholic soldiers and sailors in this military area, and that they were unanimous in their resentment at the public appearance here of Dr. Shields.

City police officials acknowledged receipt of the protests but declined to say what action would be taken.

Bishop Cody also protested to the B.C. Electric Railway Co. against advertising cards regarding Dr. Shields' appearance being carried in public street cars.

"This protest was made," he said, "on the ground that Catholics, forced to use public street cars by reason of gasoline and tire rationing making their own automobiles unavailable, should not have to read advertisements insulting their faith."

Big Parade Tonight

Victoria's Reserve Army, ready to defend this area against Japs or other invaders, will parade with bands, guns and in full battle order through the downtown district tonight at 8.15 from Bay Street Armories.

Parade will include 114th Infantry Reserve Veterans Guard, 3rd Reserve Canadian Scottish, 13th Reserve Field Ambulance, 203rd Reserve Field Battery, 1st Reserve Workshop R.C.O.C., and Brigade Group Company R.C.A. S.C., also both Garrison and Canadian Scottish bands.

Route of march will be Douglas to Yates to Quadra to Fort to Douglas to Belleville to Government depot, 1238 Government Street.

Brigadier L. W. Miller, D.S.O., retiring D.O.C., M.D. No. 11, will take the salute at the recruiting depot, 1238 Government Street. This will be Brig. Miller's last public appearance before he leaves office.

A total of 62 new recruits were reported today for the reserve units, as the feeling grew among the men of Victoria that they should join.

Reports of recruiting successes poured in from other cities where members of Parliament, mayors, aldermen and other authorities have enlisted.

Canadian Scottish announcement that day classes, under trained instructors were to be put on to accommodate men engaged at night-time civil occupations, opened the way for enlistment of hundreds of shipyard workers, mechanics and others who are free during the day.

Actual time of enlistment has now been cut to 8 minutes by eliminating delays during attestation and medical examination.

Recruiting staff will be on the job daily from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. at 1238 Government Street.

'Labor Rationing' On the Way

Workers Must Get Permits To Change Employment Now

OTTAWA (CP)—New regulations to provide control over movement of labor by requiring official approval for job changes in most industries were announced today by Elliott M. Little, director of national selective service.

He said the regulations, under which practically all employment will be compulsorily channeled through government employment offices, will "ultimately lead to rationing of labor by direction, not by compulsion."

Men and women of all ages are affected immediately by the new order. Its range extends from executives to office boys.

Mr. Little warned the time will be necessary to transfer workers from one job to another to meet labor shortages in vital industries, but he added: "We do not want to do that until we have to."

Employers Must Show Labor Trends

To provide selective service officials with a day-to-day picture of the labor supply situation, employers who anticipate a need for workers, or who anticipate they will be laying off workers, are required to report those trends to the officials.

The order extends to almost every form of work the same necessity for permits as was previously put into effect for physically-fit men from 17 to 45 who wished to enter a long list of so-called "restricted occupations"—but there are no health or age limits involved in the new system.

Decision of a selective service officer in granting or refusing a permit may be appealed to the district national war services board and decision of the board will be final.

Officials said that as a temporary measure to avoid delays, employers until further notice may engage employees without obtaining permission first, provided they submit an application for permission within three days.

Exemptions from provisions of the order, in addition to agriculture, are fishing, hunting, trapping, employment by provinces, scientific and technical employment, domestic service in a private home, part-time employment of students, subsidiary employment not the principal means of livelihood, and casual or irregular employment.

Government Officer To Approve All Jobs

"Now we say that no man or woman may take any job anywhere, with a few exceptions, without the approval of a selective service officer," Mr. Little said. "It includes executives and messengers."

"This is not 'freezing' because a man or woman still has the right to seek a job and an employer has the right to seek an employee, but the man or woman can't take a job and the employer can't hire anyone without the approval of the local office."

"It enables us to control the movement of labor and guide it where it can contribute to winning this fight we're in. We have got to a stage where we must carefully measure out our manpower on a priority basis just as materials have to be rationed."

The new regulations will not interfere with current practices of advertising for employees, but before an employer actually engages an employee he will be required to obtain a permit. This responsibility rests equally on the employee, but in practice it will be the employer who makes the application, Mr. Little said.

Outright refusals were not anticipated on any large scale but a determined effort would be made to channel workers into war industries and minimize the mobility of labor.

permits will be dependent on employment conditions in the area where the application is made.

In addition to using the 115 established offices of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, which will probably be increased, it is planned to license certain offices, particularly in larger plants in isolated districts.

"We are going to try to take care of local needs with local help to avoid secondary problems," Mr. Little said.

While employees of provincial governments do not come under the order it is applicable to both Dominion government and municipal employees.

Must Notify Local Offices

The order, which is signed by Labor Minister Mitchell and Mr. Little, provides that except for the specified exceptions "no employer shall take any person into employment except by notifying a local office of the vacancy to be filled, and engaging for that vacancy either a person referred to him for such vacancy by a local office or a person whose engagement for such vacancy is approved by the local office."

"It further provides that 'whenever an employer learns that he requires or will require to engage any additional employees or to lay off any employees, he shall forward such vacancies or lay-off to a local office.'"

The selective service office is authorized, upon not less than 10 days' notice, to revoke any approval granted by him.

Men Who Married After July, 1940 To Be Called Next

OTTAWA (CP)—Single men and childless widowers up to 35 years of age are subject to compulsory military training under a proclamation tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon by War Services Minister Thorson.

This is an extension of five years in the upper age limit for men called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act for service within Canada and its territorial waters.

BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Now before the Commons is an amendment to the N.R.M.A. which would remove the restriction against compelling men to serve outside Canada. Today's proclamation contains the restrictions.

Extension of the age limit to include men up to 35 was predicted in the House several weeks ago by Mr. Thorson. The next step is expected to be the calling of married men, starting with those who were 21 years old and married in July, 1940.

Only last March the call-up age was raised from 25 to 30. The raising of the limit again is believed to have been necessary because the supply of men eligible for call under the existing regulations was about used up in some war service divisions.

Affected by the new proclamation are men born in the years 1911, 1916, 1909, 1908 and 1907 who were single or childless widowers at July 15, 1940.

Last March it was announced it was intended to extend the call to persons of foreign nationality living in Canada, but today's proclamation relates only to British subjects. Considerable international negotiation is necessary before the call can be extended to other national groups.

Now subject to call are men born in the years 1921 to 1907 inclusive, but persons born in the year 1921 are not to be called until they reach the age of 21.

U.S. Will Build Wood Naval Craft

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a war of metals, wood took a new and important place today for use in construction of small patrol craft to combat the submarine menace and protect vital coastwise shipping.

Chairman Carl Vinson (Democrat, Georgia) of the House of Representatives naval committee said a big percentage of the 1,000 small craft envisioned in the navy's $8,550,000 fleet expansion program would be made of wood.

Use of wood for patrol boats would serve the triple purposes of holding down costs, speeding construction of light, fast craft, and preserving metal for other uses.

Moreover, Vinson reported hundreds of smaller craft would be built inland, with the probability that the navy was contemplating widespread development of the Great Lakes boat-building facilities.

Reds Counterattack

Germans Forced From New Lines Near Kharkov

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet counterattacks on the Kharkov front were reported today to have forced the Germans to abandon several lines in one sector where they tried to dig in to new positions.

While the Nazis were rolled back there, Russian dispatches told of other Red army counterattacks in several other Kharkov sectors.

In the battle for Sevastopol the fierce fighting swirled around an important highway against which the Germans launched masses of troops, tanks and planes in six assaults.

Soviet dispatches said the Germans also attacked the southern defenses of Sevastopol five times only to be repulsed in every case. The Red army, the dispatches said, is still holding Balaclava, the fishing town 7½ miles south of Sevastopol made famous by Tennyson's poem "The Charge of the Light Brigade" which occurred during the Crimean War.

NAZIS CLAIM BREACHES WIDENED

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The German command asserted today the German and Rumanian siege armies around Sevastopol have "largely extended" their breaches in the Russian defense system and thrust deep new wedges into the fortified lines, but are meeting "bitter resistance and difficulties of terrain."

Fort Siberia, one of the important Soviet bastions, was said to have been stormed early this morning, and other strongly defended heights and fortifications on both flanks of the defense system were reported captured in heavy fighting.

The communiqué said Soviet forces were attacking along the Volkov River and in the zone south of Lake Ilmen, but claimed these thrusts were unsuccessful.

British Convoy Goes Through, But Has Losses

Italians Taught Fleet No Match for Land Planes

LONDON (CP)—An Italian naval squadron in the central Mediterranean was so battered and hurt by British and United States aircraft that it at no time made contact with the Tobruk-bound convoy it had set out to intercept, a British source stated today.

It was declared officially convoys early this week had delivered necessary supplies to both Malta and Tobruk "at considerable cost."

What this cost was in ships and men was not disclosed, but the convoy operations were described as "a limited success."

There was no London comment on German reports made Tuesday that a United States battleship was among the escort of one of the convoys.

The Admiralty and Air Ministry Tuesday dismissed as fantastic the Italian and German claims that Axis forces had sunk or damaged 33 or more warships and merchantmen in the Mediterranean battle of Sunday and Monday.

British communiques Tuesday announced the sinking of an Italian heavy cruiser (admitted by the Italians) and two destroyers and damaging of six other warships, including two Italian battleships hit and set afire by bombers and torpedo planes.

On both the Allied and Axis sides shore-based aircraft apparently did the major portion of damage to the opposing surface forces.

Failure of the heavy Italian squadron even to get into contact with the Tobruk convoy was declared here to have taught Mussolini's navy that "like the Japanese fleet in the Pacific," it was no match for shore-based planes.

Reports from the Middle East indicated American pilots and planes are now fighting within the framework of the R.A.F. while gaining experience, but that later they would operate as a separate force, sharing assignments with the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F.

Sources in London acknowledged the hazards of supplying such a base as Malta but emphasized the necessity of braving them.

Supplying Malta Hazardous, But Needed

"If Malta was neutralized by the enemy or in his hands," a London source said, "the Axis supply problem in North Africa would be a comparatively simple one."

The Italian fleet which left the Taranto naval base to attack the Tobruk-bound convoy was turned back by heavy attacks of R.A.F. and U.S. air force bombers and did not make contact with its escort vessels, the source said. Both convoys, steaming from Gibraltar and from Alexandria, were reported attacked heavily by shore-based aircraft from Axis bases in Sardinia, Sicily, Pantelleria, Crete and Libya.

U.S. Bombs Hit 2 Ships 35 Times

AN ALLIED AIRDROME IN THE LIBYAN DESERT (AP)—The United States army's big Liberator (Consolidated) bombers were credited today with scoring 35 direct bomb hits on two Italian battleships in operations with the R.A.F. in the central Mediterranean and their commander said "it was like shooting fish in a barrel."

The United States fliers delivered their first blow in the Mediterranean war Monday, Maj. Alfred F. Kalberer, who led the flight, said.

They concentrated first on the two Italian capital ships and turned their bombights on accompanying cruisers and destroyers, only after hitting one battleship 20 times and the other 15.

In addition they set one cruiser afire and damaged a destroyer.

(Broadcasts from Rome today said the Italian high command had claimed the presence of a strong Italian naval formation in waters near Crete forced a 50-ship convoy to turn back to Alexandria under Axis aerial assault in one phase of this week's battles along the Mediterranean sea lanes.)

French Servitude

An Associated Press staff man here writes of France on the second anniversary of her capitulation to Germany. He was in Paris during the German occupation.

By ROY P. PORTER
NEW YORK (AP)—France began her third year of servitude under German military masters today.

Late at night, just two years ago, his trembling voice barely rising above the crackling of a Bordeaux thunderstorm, Marshal Petain told his country: "I made contact with the adversary last night, asking him as soldier to soldier to seek with me the means to stop the fight."

Thus said the commander-in-chief of all French armed forces—the man who 20 years earlier at Verdun had said "They shall not pass"—translated 42 weeks of wearying warfare into German military domination.

HUNGRIER NOW

Then—France was hungry—Today—because Germany has taken carloads of her foodstuffs, she is hungrier, to the point where her babies are dying, her children sick and her parents aging prematurely.

During two years of almost ceaseless labor, Petain has seen France rising slowly and with difficulty, licking her wounds, binding her sores. Three governments, all slanted toward collaboration with Germany, have held their reins in Vichy and Pierre Laval, most pro-Nazi of all French political figures, is again in the saddle.

"CORREGIDOR SURRENDERS"—JAPS—According to the Japanese caption on the above photo, rallied to Buenos Aires for its propaganda effect, U.S. soldiers are emerging from an underground passage on Corregidor after surrendering to the Japanese, May 6.

P.O. Jerry Bell In Another Raid

Canadians, R.A.F. Fliers Again Pound Ruhr

LONDON (CP)—British and Canadian bombers smashed again at Nazi war plants in the Ruhr and Rhineland regions of Germany Tuesday night, although bad weather which had forced a week-long lull still had not fully cleared.

Canadian bomber squadrons were out in considerable force. R.C.A.F. fliers not only bombed targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland but scored a victory over a Nazi fighter over Holland as they headed home.

Happy was Sgt. Patrick Murphy of Halifax, N.S., who downed the Nazi fighter interceptor from his rear-gunner's spot in a Wellington captained by Flt. Sgt. Jim Foy of Toronto. He managed to get in a good burst of gunfire and the crew reported the Messerschmitt 110 blew up under the hail of bullets.

Sgt. Norm Hubbard of Trux, Sask., said the rear turret of his plane was pierced by flak which missed him when he leaned over to peer at the target. With him flew Sgt. Norm Dewar of Vancouver.

The size of the raiding formation Tuesday night was average, observers said, appreciably below the scope of the 1,000-plane attacks on Cologne and Essen May 30 and June 1.

A strong bombing force blasted at the industrial Ruhr Valley in the last previous raid on the Reich the night of June 8. Adverse weather was reported to have prevailed thereafter through Monday night.

A lone German raider dropped bombs near a town on the southeast coast of England early this morning. Night fighters engaged it.

Nazi Attacks Beaten Off

British Rush New Supplies, Rommel Drives for Tobruk

By EDWARD KENNEDY
CAIRO (AP)—British guns and tanks were reported today to have beaten off two Axis attacks at Sidi Rezegh and Acroma as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel sought to storm Tobruk before the vital supplies, newly landed from a convoy at the port under cover of British and U.S. planes, could be put into the fight.

Tanks and truckloads of infantry of both sides were reported engaged in fierce fighting between Sidi Rezegh, 25 miles southeast of Tobruk, and El Adem, 18 miles south of Tobruk. The Axis forces were believed to have been reinforced by a new column which moved up to this area at midday Tuesday.

A military commentator said the "position is substantially unchanged" with the British army holding a semicircular position west, south and southeast of Tobruk, and the Germans smashing steadily at that line with tanks and artillery.

The commentator said the Germans, for the moment, were in the favorable position of having superiority in numbers of tanks and anti-tank guns.

May Recover Damaged Tanks

Three weeks of intensive fighting were said to have depleted the strength of General Grant tanks which the British forces had at the outset, thus compelling the British command to fall back on older-type reserve tanks described as no match for the Mark 4, which Rommel's forces have thrown into action.

Some sources expressed the belief the supplies landed at Tobruk might include the necessary weapons to enable the British forces to counterattack and perhaps regain damaged but repairable tanks which they left behind in withdrawing from the Knightsbridge area and their Aln el Gazala-Bir Hacheim line.

The British line apparently is anchored on the west at Acroma, dips southward through El Adem, covers northeastward from there to Sidi Rezegh, 50 miles west of the Egyptian border.

last war, allegedly to "sabotage" organized labor.
"It looks like the same old racket again—to sabotage labor," commented George Girard, vice-president.

Percy Bengough, council secretary, said some employers might use the employer-employee committees to undermine labor organizations in their plans by attempting to deal directly with employees. He suggested that employee members of these committees should be union representatives.

The council endorsed a resolution urging an increase of the minimum salary for British Columbia teachers to $900 per year. The minimum was recently raised from $780 to $840 per year.

C. D. Ovans, chairman of the publicity committee of the North Vancouver Teachers' Association, said although the minimum age for shipyard employees is 15, some 14-year-olds had falsified their ages and "a youth who was in my classroom only a year ago told me he earned $11.20 in one night. He is only 16."

Jap Forces Converge

Chinese Inflict 8,000 Casualties, Retake Points

CHUNGKING (AP)—Shanghai, important station on the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway, has been abandoned to the Japanese, but only after an all-day battle in which 8,000 casualties were inflicted on the enemy, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

Shanghai, 50 miles within Kiangsi province, fell Monday to the Japanese column which has driven westward along the railway from Chekiang province seeking a junction with a second force driving eastward from Nanchang, western terminus of the line.

With the fall of Shanghai, the Chinese admitted the gap between the two Japanese columns was being cut to 50 miles. Bloody fighting in the streets preceded the abandonment of the city.

The Chinese communiqué said the Chinese defenders of Kiangsi were attacking fiercely the flanks of the Japanese columns and had recaptured several points.

The news agency said a Japanese prisoner who gave himself up a month ago, "war weary and dissatisfied with Japan's endless aggression," had led the Chinese in an attack which destroyed

St. Laurent Speaks

Approves Conscription 'In Absolute Necessity'

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister St. Laurent Tuesday night placed himself in support of the government bill to impose conscription for overseas when the government feels such action is necessary.

The French-Canadian minister, speaking in the House of Commons in debate on the bill, said he is convinced "we all want to win the war and that we are all prepared to submit to any measure which may be absolutely necessary for that purpose."

"No thinking person can have any objection to the government resorting to conscription for overseas service in the event of absolute necessity."

Mr. St. Laurent said 175 years of British connection had "conclusively shown" that the 3,000,000 Canadians of French origin "are not going to be assimilated."

Mr. St. Laurent spoke in English, after a few words in French, because, he said, "I do not wish my English-speaking colleagues to think I would express myself more freely in French than I would wish to do in addressing them in their own language."

RATIO OF POPULATION

He said that among the obstacles to unity in Canada was the accusation levelled at French-Canadians that they and their leaders and especially their clergy were deliberately abstaining from greater participation in the armed forces in order to bring about an increase in their proportion of the Canadian population.

The Justice said that to "impute such thoughts and such motives to our clergy is an indignity against which I protest with all the earnestness at my command."

He said the accusation was that the French-Canadians sought to bring about an increase in their proportion of the population by abstaining from the war, "and an increase in what the Shields and Silcoxes and even the Globe and Mail have been pleased to call 'French-Canada's stranglehold on the Dominion.'

"My opponent in the recent election in Quebec East (Paul Bouchard, Canadian Party) did, among the many astonishing demagogic appeals he made to the electors of this constituency, ask them precisely to do that thing."

"I need not tell you what was the answer of the large majority of the sound, sensible, right-thinking Canadians of this constituency; had they not spoken about this and all other fantastic appeals, I would not be here to address you today."

Mr. St. Laurent expressed regret that Hon. P. J. A. Cardin had resigned his portfolios of works and transport in protest against the bill, and criticized Mr. Cardin's speech in explanation.

"Might I suggest to my colleagues in this House from my own province that they know as well as I do, their constituents are not fully informed of the present situation," said Mr. St. Laurent.

"The truth is that conscription or no conscription for overseas service is of very little practical consequence at the present time."

It was the French-Canadian conception of the rights and obligations of citizenship which was at the root of whatever opposition there was in Quebec or among French-Canadians to what they understood by conscription. "In their minds, conscription is the theory that they can be forced to enroll and train and fight and die for some other cause than the defence and salvation of their own country."

To some English-speaking Canadians, Canada never was and never could be anything but a "conquered colony," and the evolution of the last century of Canadian history was meaningless for them.

COLONIALISM

"Colonialism is one of the obstacles in the way of national unity in Canada," Mr. St. Laurent said.

There were extremists of the French-Canadian race also. He had talked with thoughtful leaders of the nationalist movement and had been assured by them that none of them was looking to the establishment of a separate French state on this continent, not at least during the lifetime of anyone living today.

Canada was the French-Canadians' country and their only country. There was no other land to which they could go.

"We know that we could not dominate Canada just as we know that Canada could not dominate the North American continent, nor have we any wish for domination over anyone," Mr. St. Laurent continued.

"But we do wish to be recognized as full partners and full citizens anywhere and everywhere in Canada."

CANNOT UNDERSTAND

L. P. Lizotte, Liberal, Kamourashua, Que., said Quebec could not understand why conscription was necessary for Canada, which had probably made a greater contribution to the United Nations' war effort in proportion to its population than any other single country.

"Why should we adopt a policy which other dominions declined to adopt—including Australia?" he asked.

R. M. Warren, Liberal, Renfrew North, Ont., said he would support the bill. He had every faith in the ability, patriotism and judgment of the cabinet members.

He praised the "good judgment" of Prime Minister Mackenzie King in choosing men to head war departments.

AGAINST BILL

Wilfrid Lacroix, Liberal, Quebec-Montmorency, said he would vote against the bill, because he felt Canada should keep her remaining manpower within the boundaries of the Dominion.

J. H. Leclerc, Liberal, Shefford, Que., who spoke in French, said he felt obliged to vote against the bill.

"Quebec members, Mr. Speaker, have no other course to follow than to vote squarely against this amendment."

Anscomb at Nelson

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Provincial Mines Minister Herbert Anscomb told a meeting of the Nelson Board of Trade and the Chamber of Mines Tuesday that British Columbia must look to development of its great empty spaces at the end of the war.

The province must seek businesses and industries which will continue beyond the end of the war to aid this policy, said Mr. Anscomb, who also is trade and industry minister.

The province should never again permit the Japanese to gain control of coast fishing, he said.

Pétain Sees Rise In French Anger

VICHY (AP)—"Discontent is growing," Chief of State Pétain admitted today in a brief broadcast to the French people on the second anniversary of his suing for peace with Germany.

The 86-year-old chief said, however, that he hoped to realize his country's salvation, "even after my death."

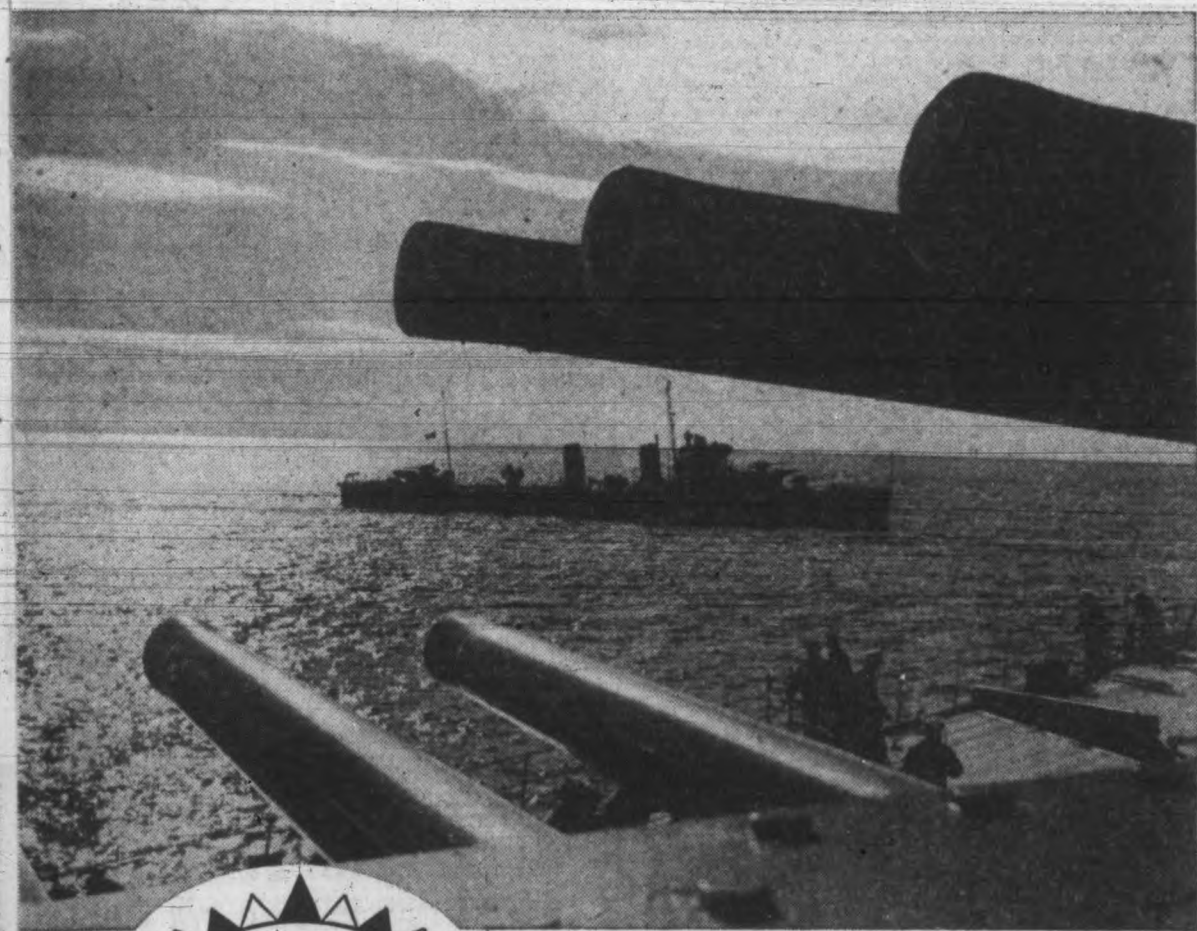

"Frenchmen," he began, "on June 17, 1940, at the tragic hour of the Armistice request, I summoned you to silence your anguish so as to hearten only your faith in the destiny of your country."

"A year later, on June 17, 1941, I declared to you that the trail would be long and hard. Today I cannot speak to you in different terms."

He went on to say, "I do not at all hide from myself the feebleness of the echoes my appeals have met with... the workman suffers—and his enforced passivity cannot be taken for resignation; the peasant grows impatient."

Pétain admitted also "the all-too-real deficiencies of the state," but said individuals likewise were to blame "if sometimes discontent is growing, if anger is rumbling."

Heroism

Big guns like these a year ago broke the silence of a Mediterranean dawn. Heavy British ships, sheltered by light craft, were pumping over 300 tons of shells into Genoa. To do so, they disregarded enemy mines, subs, planes, shore batteries and the enemy fleet in a nearby port. Total British losses, one Swordfish plane.

Gallup Poll

Provincial By-elections In Wartime Questioned

SHOULD PROVINCIAL BY-ELECTIONS BE POSTPONED UNTIL AFTER THE WAR?

YES - 48%
NO - 41%
UNDECIDED 11%

TORONTO—In various parts of Canada, particularly in Ontario, there has been much controversy as to whether provincial by-elections should be postponed until after the war. The Canadian Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll) finds that the largest group of Canadians approve such a suggestion, although opinion on the issue is fairly close, except in Quebec, where strong opposition to the idea was found.

Here is the proposition as it was put to Canadian voters in a cross-country poll:

"It has been suggested that all provincial by-elections should be postponed until the war is over, even if this meant leaving some districts without a member of the Legislature. Would you approve or disapprove if this were done?"

Results were: Approve 48%, disapprove 41%, undecided 11%.

Disapproval of the idea of postponing by-elections until after the war was found to be far stronger in the province of Quebec than anywhere else in Canada. In the table below, the findings in Quebec are compared with those in Ontario, which, with the prairie provinces, was most in favor of the suggestion:

Approve: Ontario 58%, Quebec 25%
Disapprove: Ontario 34%, Quebec 58%
Undecided: Ontario 8%, Quebec 16%

PROVINCIAL OPINION

Quebec was the only province in which the majority of those interviewed disapproved of the

D.F.C. for Ontario

LONDON (CP)—Award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Flt.-Lt. Bradley (Brad) Walker of London, Ont., flight commander, in an R.C.A.F. Spitfire squadron, was announced by idea of postponing provincial by-elections. In Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, and Saskatchewan, a majority was found approving the idea, and in British Columbia and the Maritime provinces opinion was just about evenly divided.

Because of the preponderance of Liberal adherents in Quebec, and that province's strong disapproval of the suggestion to give by-elections a hold until the war's end, a break-down of the national result on the basis of political affiliations shows that Conservatives are much more in favor than Liberals:

Approve: Conservatives 56%, Liberals 43%
Disapprove: Conservatives 37%, Liberals 46%
Undecided: Conservatives 7%, Liberals 11%

C.C.F. opinion was about evenly divided, for and against.

The questions of by-elections in wartime were recently put to the test of public opinion in Britain by the affiliated British Gallup Poll. The questions were not quite identical, because of the fact that the British survey had to do with the British Parliament, while the Canadian survey was on the basis of provincial legislatures, rather than Federal Parliament. However, there is some parallel, and the following table shows that the suggestion met with somewhat greater approval in Britain than in Canada.

British vs. Canadian views:
Approve: British 57%, Canadian 48%
Disapprove: British 35%, Canadian 41%
Undecided: British 8%, Canadian 11%

Would Impeach Halifax, Bedford

HALIFAX (CP)—Impeachment of the Duke of Bedford, Lord Halifax and Sir Samuel Hoare is asked in a resolution passed by a number of merchant seamen here and sent by air-graph letter to Prime Minister Churchill.

The resolution, calling for the immediate opening of a second front in Europe, says:

"In order to carry this out more speedily, we demand the impeachment of the Duke of Bedford, Lord Halifax and Sir Samuel Hoare, whose public conduct has been consistently hostile to a full carrying out of the war against Fascism."

"We pledge ourselves to play our part in transporting troops and materials essential for the immediate opening of a second front," the seamen said. They included members of the crews of six Allied merchant ships and men waiting for ships at the merchant seamen's manning pool.

Two Years Ago

PERHAPS IT WAS NATURAL THAT Marshal Pétain should respond to the urge to speak to the people of France on this second anniversary of his appeal for an armistice. He has told his compatriots that "discontent is growing" and admitted "the all-too-real deficiencies of the state," but added that individuals likewise were to blame if anger is rumbling.

Just what the aged Marshal hoped to convey to the French people and the world at large by his message today is far from clear. It is evident he is more or less helpless to influence the collaborationist course which Pierre Laval has set for himself. To what extent he has delayed the accomplishment of Hitler's plans may not be known until after the conflict has been brought to an end. But there seems little he can do now to correct what he calls the "deficiencies of the state" or to influence conduct which he says is causing anger to rumble.

Marshal Pétain has a defeatist complex. Despite his stand at Verdun in 1916, his "they-shall-not-pass" order of the day, he was one of the "wet blankets" which "Tiger" Clemenceau squeezed when he formed his victory cabinet toward the end of 1917. Nor is it any use harping at this stage on what might have been if the men of Bordeaux whom Pétain dominated had moved on to north Africa.

It will remain a puzzle to most people why, notwithstanding his paradoxical make-up, the aged Marshal did not a year ago, or does not now, urge the French people to resist the aggressor in every way possible. But he seems content to mumble words that have no fire or meaning.

Knows Whereof He Speaks

RT. HON. OLIVER LYTTLETON HAS won his spurs in three realms—industry, the army, and in government. Mr. Churchill earned warm commendation when he appointed him to the important post of Britain's Minister of Supply, the head of the department which the present Prime Minister beseeched, in season and out of season, his two predecessors to create as he saw Germany feverishly rearming. And this is the man who told an Ottawa audience on Monday that British expectations for war munitions from Canada have been vastly exceeded by deliveries, that many plants in this country are operating at twice their rated capacity, that aircraft production is now 147 per cent of what it was at the end of 1941, and that these machines are of the highest quality. Mr. Lyttleton also had seen the Canadian army in operation in England; it was one of which Canadians had every reason to be proud.

Britain's Minister of Supply has been described as a servant of the people who has a habit of saying what he means and knows to be true—of avoiding post-prandial pleasantries in respect of serious matters as he would the plague. It is well that he said what he did at Ottawa. Canada's war machine in Canada is a tremendous business of which most of our people know but little. To spend a few hours in a tank factory or, for instance, in the huge Bren gun factory, is to live for a time in an atmosphere difficult to describe. But one comes out of it with a sense of gratification and assurance that no ministerial pronouncement, no matter how picturesque or eloquent it may be, can hope to impart. And the peak has not yet been reached. But as the Dominion's war industry stands today it furnishes the complete answer to the parrot-like cry that Canada is pursuing a "middle-of-the-road" war policy. People who persist in repeating this twaddle simply do not know what they are talking about.

Challenge to Tolerance

ONE OR TWO REMARKS CREDITED to the Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields, president of the Canadian Protestant League, in Vancouver on Monday of this week, sound a note so much in conflict with the tolerant spirit of this country that they should not be permitted to pass unnoticed. He is reported to have said he believed, for example, that the Roman Catholic faith is "the most potent agency for evil in all the wide world," that the "real Prime Minister (of Canada) is Cardinal Villeneuve," Archbishop of Quebec, and "for that reason we have no conception, only a half-hearted war effort."

No good purpose can be served by attempts to stir up religious enmity in Canada. Such conduct is regrettable in the best of times; but at this stage it is perilously near the orbit of activities threatening order and good government. Leaders of such movements apparently forget that one of the four freedoms for which men and women—and children—are dying in three-quarters of the globe is freedom to worship God according to the dictates of conscience. Does Dr. Shields challenge this? While in many people inherent beliefs may lie dormant, the slightest attempt to assail those beliefs, or to encroach on the inalienable right of men and women to practice whatever creed they wish, is apt to awaken the instinct to protect that right to the death if necessary. If any proof of this attitude of mind is needed, it can be found in continental Europe, where religious persecution holds first place in the Nazi program of tyranny and oppression. And one has only to dip into the world's history to be convinced that religious wars are the bitterest of all.

Moreover, at a time when Canadian unity hangs by a thread, at a time when Canada's whole war effort may be seriously imperilled by lack of cohesion and understanding between its English-speaking and French-Canadian peoples, the introduction of religious controversy should be avoided at all costs; religion, indeed, should be regarded for what it is—a purely personal matter between the individual and his conscience. And it would be more in keeping with the true spirit of Christianity were church leaders—of whatever denomination or dogma—to confine their efforts to the teaching of the real spirit of Christ by an exemplification of the Golden Rule. With the inspiration of such leadership, no denomination or creed need fear encroachment on what it considers its particular preserve.

Dr. Shields, of course, is entitled to his opinions; but it is to be hoped he recognizes the line of demarcation between freedom of speech and unbridled license. Far be it from us to presume to advise; but for an example of living religious tolerance and understanding of humankind we instinctively think of the new Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Temple, whose philosophy in practice is not blurred by ritualistic fog or exhibitionist cant.

Unfolding Strategy

HOW MANY AMERICAN BOMBERS and fighter craft, flown by American airmen, are operating in the Mediterranean and the Middle East is not important in itself. It is highly important and heartening to know that United States squadrons already have made their appearance in battle in that vital theatre of war. The announcement will not please either the Germans or the Italians. Nor is it important that the crews of four large machines are interned in Turkey. It is highly important to know that they had done a job on the Rumanian oil wells before misfortune overtook them. Back of this news, of course, is the comforting feeling that Anglo-American forces are joined in the Middle East in readiness to assist Russia if the Caucasus oil fields should be seriously threatened, or if Germany should attempt to drive through Turkish territory in an effort to get at the oil in Iraq and Iran.

Several months ago, it will be remembered, Washington announced that Turkey had been placed on the list of nations entitled to Lend-Lease assistance. As recently as last February, Ankara let it be known that it had diverted to Russia—discharging a "debt of honor"—supplies which had been received from Britain and the United States. This referred to a recognition of the practical aid and sympathetic encouragement the young Turkish republic had received from Moscow during its difficult and delicate formative stages under the guidance of Mustafa Kemal Pasha—or Kemal Ataturk as he was known for some time before his death three and a half years ago. The presence of an American air force in the Middle East, standing with Britain "at Turkey's back like big brothers," suggests, incidentally, that Eritrea by this time may have become a hive of activity. Last November it was announced from Washington and London that this former Italian territory had been taken over by the United States for industrial development. Are we witnessing the opening of still another air front on a joint basis?

Overseas veterans of the last war owed many comforts to Lady Drummond, who has just died at her home in Montreal. Her solicitude for the troops resulted in her taking the lead in establishing the Maple Leaf Clubs for Canadian soldiers in London and elsewhere. Nearly every Canadian who was wounded will have added reasons for remembering her name with gratitude for her work to make things easier for the men in hospitals. To many she was personally a "ministering angel." Surely, the only regret possible for her in the final years of her life was that she could not have served with the same devotion and success in this war as she did in the former. She goes down in history as one of Canada's grand women.

EXIT 'FRATS'

From Philadelphia Inquirer
If you want to know what the leading preparatory schools for boys are going to do tomorrow, watch what the Phillips Exeter Academy does today. Some time before June 3, 1942, fraternities in that school will be abolished.

"Fraternity" is an ambiguous term. Since when has fraternity consisted in going indoors and shutting out the rest of the world? Such procedure results less in shutting the world out than in shutting the members in. This is given by the academy as its second reason for abolishing the "frats," although it is one which comes first in public interest. "Fighting for what we call 'democracy,' a national school like Exeter has no business in 1942 condoning such undemocratic institutions." The faculty statement adds that they are "adjusting the social life of the school not to the past but to the present and future."

The other reason for the abolition of the fraternities is that since the school has taken over the supervision of the social activities of the boys, there is little that the fraternities do that is not better done by the faculty.

As the educational system proper to the people gradually takes shape during the present century, it reflects the trend toward the democratization of learning and away from academic reflections of the social exclusiveness which have been one of their glaring defects. Most of us have a soft spot in our hearts for some school or college frat, but an age has come when such soft spots are also in the head—where they are out of place.

BERRIES

THE BERRY MEN from the Fraser Valley, as I see by the papers, have been over here telling Mr. Hart that if they can't get 1,000 pickers right away about half their crop will rot. One would like to pause at this point and discuss the virtues of the strawberry which, in more leisurely times, I have done regularly at this season, but these times are meant for other things. And the lesson of the berry pickers' complaint is something much larger than berries.

The lesson, of course, is that we have not yet mobilized the nation for total war, by a long way. At Ottawa the politicians are gripped by debate on the question of conscripting men for overseas service, at a time when there are plenty of volunteers; and while this is important as a matter of principle, as a matter of fact, our essential industries are not getting enough men to keep them going properly. A matter of fact, surely is not inferior to a matter of principle in the hard-boiled business of managing a war.

The berry growers are not alone in their problem. If you will read Hansard for a week (at the end of which time you will die of sheer exhaustion and also will be ashamed to remember that you always thought the politicians knew nothing) you will find farmers from all over the nation crying out through their representatives—against the lack of labor. Everywhere it is the same story—the son of the farm family, the hired man gone off to the war or to the war factory, and the old man and his wife at home unable to milk the cows. In the Fraser Valley more than a herd of cows a day is being sold off now on the average because the owners can't maintain them, for lack of labor.

COPPER AND GOLD

BUT THE FARM PROBLEM, while the most acute form of manpower shortage, is not the only problem of this kind. In British Columbia we have valuable minerals, including copper, and copper is one of the most vital and at the same time one of the scarcest metals in the world. The United States at present is not getting enough of it for sheer military purposes, without even considering copper for civilian use. Yet the production of copper in British Columbia has been dropping. This sounds impossible and surely is insane, but it is true. The copper mines not far from the gold mines cannot get enough labor; but the gold mines, producing a perfectly useless article, are going full blast.

Worse than that, the aluminum industry of Quebec, one of the most vital industries in the whole war program of the United Nations, is crying out for men. Mr. Howe said recently he could use some 30,000 men in his war industries, many of them in aluminum, some in nickel mining. But he hasn't got them yet.

HUMAN NATURE

THE TROUBLE HERE, like all political troubles, stems from human nature. Human nature is so built that it will invariably die for the defence of certain things which it values; but is not so easy to make human nature work for the same things. Nations, usually without much difficulty, enforce laws to make men fight, but few of them have ever been able to enforce laws to make men work. Even if you pass such laws it is not easy to succeed with them. You could conscript men for farm service but after you had turned them loose in a turnip field you might not get many turnips hoed, if they wanted to slack on the job.

Nevertheless, it is clear from the present picture of Canada that something more must be done about manpower for our industries, especially agriculture. It is industry, not the fighting services, which is short of men right now. This situation may well reverse itself in time but there it is at present while the nation can think of nothing but the single question of conscription for overseas service. We should be thinking of conscription for all kinds of service.

ACHILLES' HEEL

ACTUALLY, this is the Achilles' heel of the Canadian government's whole war program. The program has been large—far larger than anyone could have considered possible two years ago. In many respects it has been a spectacular success, especially on the industrial side. But it has been a kind of day-to-day program without much thought of final results so far as manpower is concerned. There has been in fact no manpower policy, no clear-cut understanding of what men would be required, what would be used or where.

Mr. Howe, a magnificent improviser and one of the most useful Canadians of his generation, to whom the nation owes a great debt, never worried about labor because he could get all he wanted at the start. He concentrated on building factories and performed a building miracle. But the labor problem, which was not his (he couldn't do everything) has caught up with him at last and, as our supplies grow shorter, some very unpleasant and drastic things will have to be done about it; and until we know where we stand there is a certain unreality in concentrating our minds entirely on the single facet of our problem called overseas conscription.

SIDE GLANCES

"We had a little house with a garden years ago—I can't help thinking about it every spring!"

Leader of Canadian Bar

From Toronto Star

Canada has lost her foremost legal counsel, W. Norman Tilley, K.C. An outstanding authority on constitutional and railway law, his frequent appearance in Britain on Privy Council cases had given him a more than national reputation. Together with unusual keenness of mind and forcefulness of address, he possessed a remarkable capacity for hard and sustained study. He would toll far into the night to perfect his acquaintance with issues in which he was involved. It was true of Mr. Tilley, as it was true of that other great Toronto counsel, the late N. W. Rowell, that he never spared himself. Both of these men combined brilliance of intellect with remarkable industry. When they met in the Toronto street railway arbitration and in other notable cases, it was indeed a battle of the giants. Mr. Tilley's first and last love was the law.

Norman Tilley received his high school education at Lipsday, where his father was headmaster of the collegiate—later school inspector. The lad's progress was none too good; there had been a change in textbooks and some of the teachers were not congenial. The educationist father inquired of one of the teachers what was wrong. "Well," came the reply, "there are some boys who have no aptitude for learning. There's a sign 'Boy Wanted' in the dry-goods store down street. He might be good at business. Why don't you try him there?" But the lad with "no aptitude for learning" graduated from Osgoode Hall with the gold medal, and became the leader of the Canadian Bar.

Mr. Tilley was a great cross-examiner, and could be an unsparing one, but he was by nature genial and kindly; a good companion and a staunch friend. It was said of him in the courts that he had a "million-dollar laugh." There was an occasion on which one of the opposing counsel was being particularly offensive. On the heels of an exceptionally bitter remark, Mr. Tilley rose smilingly and addressed the court: "Yes, my lord, let's all be as nasty as we can." The court chuckled, the chuckle spread, and it finally included everyone present except the discomfited lawyer himself.

In the death of W. N. Tilley, Canada loses a fine and exceptionally talented citizen; one whose private benefactions were many and generous, and who left an impression of kindness and good will wherever he was known.

PREJUDICE CRUMBLES BEFORE MANPOWER SHORTAGE

From New York World-Telegram

How permanent the change may be there is no way of predicting. But before this war is ended, industrial discrimination based on racial prejudices will have been pretty thoroughly eliminated.

This prediction is not based on any naive notion that the millennium is just around the corner. There does seem to be a little ebb in the wave of anti-Semitism which flowed high up to recently. There are evidences of a slight improvement in the attitude toward negroes. But those changes seem so minute that one cannot be certain they exist at all.

The walls of prejudice in industry are crumbling for the simple and effective reason that we do not have enough manpower to do the war job unless we utilize every available unit with utmost efficiency.

If personnel departments were free to reject Jews, negroes, New Yorkers, women, men with receding chins, and members of the Roman Catholic Church—in other words, if industries were permitted to express the prejudices of their operators or employment managers in the selection of workmen—we could not do what will be necessary to whip the Axis.

Therefore, whether individuals or groups may like it, racial, religious, sectional and idiosyncratic bars are going to be lowered close to the ground within a very few months.

In the two calendar years now under way, we plan to triple our output of ships, quadruple our manufacture of airplanes, triple our output of guns and munitions. We can do these things only if we put 15,000,000 men and women into war factories by mid-November, 17,000,000 by next November, 20,000,000 by 1944. We were using 7,000,000 at the beginning of this year and only about 9,000,000 last April 1.

The War Manpower Commission has figured on sources for 12,500,000 soldiers and workers we need in 1942, by draining every vessel—taking 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 from civilian production, pirating 500,000 from the already hard-pressed farms, getting 2,000,000 women, youths and overage ex-workers, etc.

But—at a time when we are

Women Responding To New War Call

In all, 500 volunteers will be required for the job to be undertaken in certain schools on June 26. The work entails the transfer from the ration application cards to the ration books of the names and addresses of the applicants. Without such a book it will be impossible to purchase sugar after July 1, the date specified by the Wartime Prices and Trades Board, so it is essential that the task be completed as quickly as possible.

Any woman willing to volunteer for this particular war job is asked to enroll without delay at 311 Union Building; the telephone number is B 3814. The Local Council of Women is manning the registration office and undertaking the enlistment of volunteers.

CUTTING THE BIRTHDAY CAKE at the 21st anniversary of the founding of Victoria Women's Institute Tuesday afternoon is Mrs. Wm. Peden, who was the Institute's first vice-president (centre). With her, the Times cameraman snapped Mrs. V. S. McLachlan (left), superintendent of Women's Institutes for the province, and Mrs. Clifford Johns, the present president.

Victoria Institute Celebrates Its Coming-of-Age

Twenty-one years of splendid community service was reviewed in retrospect when the Victoria Women's Institute celebrated its coming-of-age at a birthday party held in the institute rooms, Fort Street, Tuesday afternoon. About 125 members attended the gathering, and among the special guests was Mayor Andrew McGavin, who seized the opportunity to congratulate the members on their long record of service and to wish them every success in their future undertakings.

The guests were received in the flower-decorated rooms by Mrs. Wm. Peden, who held the office of vice-president at the time of organization, and Mrs. Clifford Johns, who heads the institute at present. Mrs. L. Schmelz, a pioneer member, was at the piano for the singing of O Canada, with which the program opened. On behalf of the Department of Agriculture, Mrs. V. S. McLachlan, superintendent of Women's Institutes, spoke a few words of greeting, and Mrs. C. Johns, the president, who was in charge of the celebration arrangements, thanked the mayor for his words.

A touching tribute was paid to the late Mrs. J. D. Gordon, a pioneer member, and the first provincial president, when Mrs. McLachlan presented to Mrs. Peden, for the institute, a framed photograph of Mrs. Gordon.

The birthday cake, a gift from Mrs. S. W. Raven, one of the first presidents of the institute, was cut by Mrs. Peden. The tea table was artistically arranged with yellow roses, green foliage, yellow and green tapers in silver holders, and yellow tulle was placed effectively around the cake.

Mrs. A. R. Harness was in charge of the decorations. Corsages were presented to Mrs. McLachlan, Mrs. Peden, Mrs. Johns, Mrs. E. Wilkinson and Mrs. J. R. Terry, the last two having been constant members for 21 years.

Refreshments were served by the executive: Mrs. A. Richards, Mrs. A. R. Harness, Mrs. G. Brown, Mrs. F. G. Muir and Mrs. F. W. Bridge.

Hoped for a 'Break' Paganini, famous violinist, played with frayed strings, hoping that one or more of them might break, so he could show his ability in playing on those that were left.

Wakelyn, received corsage bouquets of roses and shamrocks. The many gifts were concealed in a prettily decorated box representing a chair. Mrs. Bert Wakelyn and Mrs. E. D. P.P.C.L.I. Tag Day Set for July 11

Plans for the tag day on July 11 were advanced at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the P.P.C.L.I., held at the Y.W.C.A. on Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. T. Harper presiding. The president, on behalf of the members, welcomed their honorary president, Mrs. W. G. Colquhoun, to the meeting.

A letter from Capt. J. T. Harper was read, in which he thanked the W.A. for the many parcels of woolen comforts, the cigarettes, tea, coffee, soap, etc., and said how much the men appreciated all that the W.A. was doing for the regiment. Mrs. F. S. Ross reported on woolen comforts; Mrs. R. McVie on cigarettes, tea and coffee; Mrs. Harper on soap and razor blades sent overseas.

Toronto Boys Grew Under Low-cost Nutrition Diet

TORONTO (CP)—A three-months nutritional experiment here with 30 boys between the ages of 9 and 12 has resulted in the conclusion that the percentage of their total requirements a day, obtained from one properly-supervised lunch is sufficiently high to ensure an adequate diet when added to whatever food they might choose to eat at other meals.

The conclusion was announced by the Toronto Kiwanis Club Tuesday night following an experiment with 30 members of the boys' "K" Clubs of Toronto.

The 30, whose diets had been found inadequate were fed properly-balanced meals each week, on school days, during the experimental period.

LOW COST LUNCHES

Low cost lunches were planned which provided so large a percentage of the protein, mineral and vitamin requirements that no matter what was eaten in the other two meals the diet would be adequate.

The boys averaged a gain of 3.05 pounds in weight each during the three-month period and each gained 44 inch in height.

Among conclusions reached at the end of the experimental period were that boys of the ages concerned will enjoy a simple meal and seem to obtain as much satisfaction from a cold lunch as from one that is hot; that the food cost of such lunches is relatively low when compared with the total food value of the meal; and that a rather monotonous menu did not seem any disadvantage.

Miss Marjorie Bell, a nutritionist, was quoted in the report as stating, under the supervision of people trained in nutrition, food habits, which have been considered most difficult to establish, were put into effect with ease.

"For example, cod liver oil, whole wheat bread and raw vegetables were accepted by the whole group and the boys were willing to taste and learn to like each new food presented," Miss Bell reported. She added that food habits learned during the period were carried back and "had an effect in the home."

SAMPLE MENUS

Here are a few sample menus: Peanut butter sandwiches on whole wheat bread, raw carrot sticks, orange, milk, cod liver oil. Cream of potato soup, buttered whole wheat bread, raw carrot sticks, orange, milk, cod liver oil.

Baked Lima beans (dried) with tomato sauce, buttered whole wheat bread, orange, milk, cod liver oil.

Creamed salmon and split peas on whole wheat toast, buttered whole wheat bread, orange, milk, cod liver oil.

Dr. Frederick Tisdall of Toronto, director of the nutritional research laboratories, wrote that "if this work could be extended throughout Canada there is no doubt that the health and efficiency of the nation would be improved."

The bride and groom left for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride changing to a navy blue pin-striped suit with matching Deauville model hat and veil and navy and white accessories and a shoulder spray of orchids and sweetheart roses. On their return they will live in Victoria.

For the occasion, Mrs. Payne received her guests in a dusty pink printed sheer redingote with white accessories and white silk hat. She was assisted by Mrs. Bennett in a dusty rose costume with black picture hat and white accessories, both having corsages of Talisman roses.

Pioneer Sister Is 82 Today

Sister Mary Joseph Calasancius, pioneer missionary nun of the Sisterhood of St. Ann, is today receiving congratulations on her 82nd birthday, which she is quietly observing in retirement at St. Ann's Academy.

Sister Joseph was born at Moorseele, near Courtrai, Belgium, June 16, 1860, the daughter of Bruno Deruyter, merchant, and his wife, Romane Vansteenkiste. She was a student at the normal school of St. Andrew's at Bruges when Bishop J. B. Brondel of Vancouver Island visited the institution to call for helpers in the missions in far away British Columbia. The future Sister Joseph answered the call and in 1883 left her home, family and friends in Belgium and sailed for Canada, entering the St. Ann Sisterhood at the mother house in Lachine, near Montreal.

Two years later she came to Victoria. In 1887 she volunteered to serve in Archbishop Seghers' Alaska missions. With two other nuns she left Victoria in April of that year, sailing by the old Umatilla from the Outer Wharf for San Francisco, from where they took the St. Paul for Unalaska, spending four weeks there and then pushing on to St. Michael. Finally, on Sept. 4, the long voyage ended and the sisters reached Holy Cross to open the mission school and hospital. There Sister Joseph labored among the Indians and Eskimos until 1905, when she returned to Victoria.

The other two nuns who accompanied Sister Joseph north were Sister Mary Stephen, now nearing her 98th birthday at the mother house in Lachine, and Sister Mary Pauline, who died in Montreal some months ago at the age of 84.

Sister Joseph a few years ago published her memories under the title "Voice of Alaska."

Old Savoyard Dies in 90th Year

WORTHING, Sussex (CP)—Jessie Bond, 89, one of the two remaining original Savoyards, died today at her home here.

She was two years younger than Durward Lely of Glasgow, who now is the last survivor of the original company which presented the operettas of Gilbert and Sullivan.

Miss Bond created the role of Hebe in "H.M.S. Pinafore" in London in 1878 and played it in New York, at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, the next year.

Until her retirement from the stage just before the turn of the century following her marriage to Lewis Ransome, she played leading roles in most of the famous operettas, including the title role in "Iolanthe."

With a defiant "I don't care a damn for them," she shrugged off Britain's air raids and, despite failing health, played piano for wounded soldiers until recently.

Princess Elizabeth Begins Royal Duties

LONDON—If they were not so busy saving the Empire over which she may some day reign, the people of Britain would be aflutter over the approach to womanhood of Elizabeth Alexandra Windsor. She was 16 on April 21.

The British have been so preoccupied with the war that they almost forgot for a time that Princess Elizabeth was no longer the slightly chubby-checked youngster whom a delighted Empire once called "Lilibet."

That pet name disappeared from the newspapers some years ago but not because Elizabeth outgrew it then. Instead the press was quietly reminded that such familiar terms which might be used among members of the royal family were best overlooked by other people.

Now the princess is 16 years old. She stands five feet six inches—a full inch taller than her mother. Once, when she appeared in a swimming competition, admiring reporters described her figure as "tall, sturdy, finely built."

Family acquaintances say she looks like her father, King George, and her grandmother, the Queen Mother Mary. But when she broadcast to child evacuees, "everyone said her voice was like her mother's."

On her 16th birthday, the Word went around that the King had decided his heir presumptive was old enough to emerge into a wider sphere of public life.

Glimpses of Elizabeth as a young lady have been reassuring. Calm confidence and what the press call "unhurried dignity" marked her demeanor when, wearing a brooch proclaiming her new rank as colonel of the famed Grenadier Guards, she reviewed a guard detachment on her last birthday.

SHE DANCES WELL

The Guards danced that night to celebrate the occasion and the princess did all right again. She danced with her father, with young Guards' officers and with a 16-year-old drummer boy. Moreover, she danced well.

Since then, with other 16-year-olds, Elizabeth has appeared at a district headquarters to register under the national service act, and the nation nodded approvingly at the trim figure in a Girl Guide uniform who obligingly posed for photographers, smiling across the desk at the clerk from whom she borrowed a fountain pen to sign her papers.

She crossed up her public a little on that signature. The press, with a unanimity suggesting a common source, had reported she would use her whole name. Instead she wrote, "H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth."

The splendor of the court over which she may preside, like the tall bearskin hats of the Grenadier Guards, is in mothballs until the fighting ceases.

PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION

The war may delay the princess' court life, but it brought no lapse in her carefully planned education. Much of it comes from tutors and textbooks and some is weighty stuff for a young girl—economics, sociology and constitutional history, for example.

She has long been proficient in French and began studying German and Spanish years ago. But there are other sides of her training. She is being brought into contact occasionally with every stratum of British society. It was something of a sensation when she and her younger sister, Princess Margaret, accompanied by the Queen, appeared in the British equivalent of a "five and ten cent" store on a holiday shopping tour. And both girls got a lot of fun out of their first subway ride.

Give your Summer Outfit the benefit of a "Sanitone" treatment by calling

Elizabeth is learning at first hand about the people of other countries. Among many she has talked with the Soviet ambassador, and, by recent reports, she calls Norway's King Haakon "uncle."

Most important of all, however, she seems to know what people want of a princess who appears destined to become a queen.

Convention Address

Canada Health Plan Urged Upon Doctors

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—Dr. Gordon S. Fahrni of Winnipeg called on the Canadian Medical Association today to "try in every way possible to see that the best form of medical service will be given to the Canadian people when, and if, the government decides to institute a health service for Canada."

In his presidential address at the 73rd annual meeting of the association, Dr. Fahrni said there were two "very good arguments" in favor of introduction of a comprehensive health plan in Canada before the end of the present war.

One reason was the "sense of security it would give to the people during post-war reconstruction and rehabilitation." The second was "the fear, that if the war continues many more years we may find ourselves under a bureaucratic rather than a democratic form of government."

During the last few months, the association had sent out a questionnaire on health insurance to all practising physicians in Canada, and the returns received "are predominantly in favor of some plan of health insurance for the whole country."

COUNTRY IN FAVOR

The country itself favored such a plan, he said. He quoted the results of one poll as showing that 75 per cent of the people of Canada were in favor of a government-sponsored national health plan to provide medical and hospital care when needed in return for a small monthly payment out of income. Eighteen per cent were opposed and 7 per cent undecided.

In any health plan, Dr. Fahrni continued, "the physician who goes into a home should cross the threshold not only as a physician to treat a sick member of the household but also as the family doctor who would survey the whole household background, housing conditions, physical fitness and state of nutrition of the members of the family."

"It is he who, while on the spot, an agent of the government as well as being the family physician, should investigate the physical fitness of all members of the family."

Turning to the system under which a health insurance program might operate, Dr. Fahrni said the weight of opinion seemed to favor limiting the insurance to those whose income is insufficient to provide adequate medical care, although "there are some who feel that no income ceiling should exist."

Saanich Fruitgrowers Will Need All Pickers

Norman Foster, registrar for the Wartime Harvesting Corps, said today the services of persons registering to pick strawberries who had not been called yet, would be needed as soon as the weather became more settled.

With unsettled weather, the crop was not ripening quickly enough to warrant the sending of pickers out each day. He said he had been guarding against sending pickers out on days when they could only work a couple of hours.

Mr. Foster emphasized, however, that the services of all pickers registered, and some more, would be needed before all the Saanich berries were harvested. He said it was more satisfactory for both the grower and the pickers if the pickers stayed at the farm overnight.

First aid examination of the St. John Ambulance Association, Victoria Centre, at Crystal Gardens, Thursday, has been postponed to June 25.

CHINESE ENVOY TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Dr. Liu Shih-shun, Ph.D., first Chinese envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Canada, will arrive in Victoria Friday to address the Canadian Club luncheon at 12.15 at the Empress Hotel.

A scholar of note, Dr. Liu, has at different times been director of the department of American affairs, director of the department of European affairs and minister of foreign affairs in the National Government of China.

Friday afternoon Dr. Liu will be guest at a reception given by Dr. Chao, Chinese consul-general in British Columbia, who is accompanying the minister from the mainland.

Invitations to the reception have been extended to the Premier and Members of the Legislative Assembly, civic officials, members of the judiciary, consular service, representatives of the armed services, the Committee for Medical Aid to China, Canadian Friends of the Chinese People and other representative citizens and their wives.

Dangerous Driving

Charged with driving to the common danger, John Baboo, Hindu of 611 Alpha Street, appeared in City Police Court today before Magistrate Hall and was released on bail until tomorrow.

Police reports show that Tuesday night Baboo's truck collided with an automobile in charge of Walter Moir, 2110 Spring Street. Moir had just alighted from his car to see if the headlights were functioning, police report, when it was struck from behind by Baboo's truck.

Knocked to the ground, Moir suffered injuries to his right arm and side, and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where his condition today was reported good. He was attended by Dr. Samuel Janowsky.

Victorians to Attend Port Alberni Meeting

W. T. Straith, K.C., M.L.A., past president; G. Hamilton Harman, director; George I. Warren, managing secretary, and R. J. Burland will represent the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island. The conference will begin this evening at Port Alberni with a dinner.

Other boards to be represented include: Saanich, Malahat, Duncan, Nanaimo, Parksville, Qualicum, Courtenay, Cumberland, Campbell River, Port Alberni and Tofino.

Business sessions will continue throughout Thursday.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores, or any drugist, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your drugist will gladly return your money.

Early Canadian Women Recalled

The part women have played in the development of Canada, and the difficulties and hardships they encountered were described by Miss Violet Wilson to members of the B.C. Historical Association Tuesday night in the Provincial Library.

Speaking on "Some Early Canadian Women," Miss Wilson presented a colorful and highly descriptive picture of life in this country in the latter part of the 18th century.

Starting from the Indian women, and telling of how they lived their daily lives, the speaker continued to times when the white men arrived.

"The first white woman to arrive in Canada was Marie Hebert," Miss Wilson said, "she was the wife of Louis Hebert, a French chemist. This was in 1601."

Other pioneer women in Canada mentioned were Laura Secord, whose daring and bravery saved a British fort from certain defeat, Madame Chaplain and Letitia McTavish.

"Canada had a fleet as early as 1792," said Miss Wilson, "it was called the Lake Ontario Armed Fleet."

HUMOR IN LIFE

There was humor among the life of the early Canadians, the speaker stated. She related the story of how Indians from all the Hudson Bay district had come to see the first white baby born in the country.

"Are we too ugly to kiss the boy?" the Indians asked. The nurse said "No," and the child was passed around for all to kiss.

City Encourages More Gardening

Foreseeing a shortage of green vegetables, W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, Tuesday night urged citizens to get behind the victory garden plan. He said the City Council was giving all aid possible to promoting gardens on vacant lots, and sites for community gardens had already been chosen.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the city A.R.P., Mr. Warren said Victoria depended almost wholly on transportation between island and the mainland for food. With the evacuation of Japanese from California farms, a large part of the normal vegetable supply will be cut off, he said, and transportation of vegetables was threatened by war material priorities.

"If you are interested, get your neighbors together, choose a lot and let us know," Mr. Warren said. "I will do all I can to see that the scheme is successful."

Two films, "Queen's Messengers" and "Call For Volunteers," lent by the Extension Department of the University of B.C., were shown.

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, deputy civilian protection officer, presided. Alderman J. A. Worthington thanked Mr. Warren for his address.

JOHNS-MANVILLEEardrums Safe Now
When Guns 'Go Boom'

The other day, your Johns-Manville Reporter ran into a war worker with a specialty interesting job. He explained, "I'm on the firing line" in the Test Range of a plant where rifles and machine guns are made. And then he added, "I sure want to thank the Johns-Manville people for saving my eardrums and my nerves."

You see, these factory Test Ranges are located indoors, where echo and reverberation magnify the normal report of a gun to ear-splitting intensity, unless something is done to absorb and deaden the noise. And that's where J-M Sound Control Service and Materials come in, cutting the heavy blasts down to more comfortable levels—and saving test-eers' eardrums! Incidentally, more and more businessmen are looking to J-M Sound Control Service for help in stepping up worker efficiency by eliminating nerve-wearing noise in offices. For a free book on the "why" and "how," drop a card to Johns-Manville, 199 Bay Street, Toronto, Ont.

$13,000 DOWN TO $25
PONTIAC, Sask. (CP)—Latest contribution to the war effort from this southern Saskatchewan town is a huge, two-cylinder steam engine of ancient make, weighing 22½ tons. It is estimated the museum piece, original cost of which ranged about $13,000, will bring $25 on the scrap market.

Left to right: Back row, Ernest McCoy (House III, House trophy), Sidney Jackman (oratorical trophy), Peter Olsen (intermediate track), Warren George (senior track). Front row, Bob Zellinsky (leader cup), Daphne Bourque (badminton and tennis), Dorie Nunn (senior girls' track), Dick Chungmanes (senior track). Absent from picture was cup-winner Thelma Whyte (junior track).

Victoria High School students Tuesday were presented with cups and other awards for extra-curricular activities sponsored this year.

H. L. Smith, principal, and other members of the staff presented the awards.
Bob Zellinsky, current year's Students' Council president, was awarded the Leader Cup. Doug Shadbolt was named runner-up for this award.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Zellinsky of Bamberton. He is 17 years of age. Prior to Victoria High School he attended Bamberton and Central Junior High schools. This year he has taken part in almost every activity, invariably taking a leading place. He intends to continue with his studies and will attend Victoria College next fall.

He, who presented the cup, told the assembled students something about the award. Originally presented to the school by Division 17 of the 1927-28 school year, it is one of the highest awards available to a high school student. Awarded on the basis of a Rhodes scholarship, to win it a student must be a good scholar and must lead in the various social and sports activities of the school.

The house championship competition trophy went to House III, received for the house by Dick Chungmanes, both having the same number of points, were awarded the boys' senior track and field championship cup. Dorie Nunn received the corresponding girls' award.

Yvonne Simpson and Jim Crawford were awarded the girls' and boys' intermediate track and field championship cups.

Thelma Whyte and Peter Olsen were awarded the girls' and boys' junior track and field championship cups.

Daphne Bourque was awarded both the senior tennis and badminton championship cups.
Sydney Jackman was presented the oratorical cup which he won during the oratorical contest held earlier in the term.

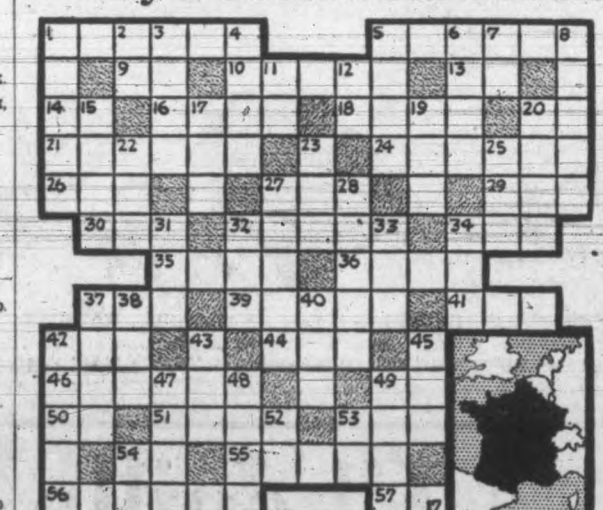

Portia pins were presented to girls of the Portia Society by Miss J. Roberts. Girls receiving pins were: Mildred Edmonds, Evelyn Alexander, Joyce Bishop, Shirley Noel, June Dunn, Mary Engelhardt, Jean Gray, Norma Hurry, Doreen Ireland, Frances James, Margaret Low, Patty Payte, Peggy Pepper, Gladys Smith, Freda Natras, Alice Tourtellotte, Tannis Martin and Joyce Bayliss.

Members of last year's Life-saving Club who were entitled to bronze medallions, the presentation of which had been delayed, also received them yesterday. Present were: Patricia Jordan, Ida Simon, Helen Finlayson, Gertrude Lane, Gertrude Paul, Roger Hicks. Absent were last year's students Patricia Sommers, Doris Chivers, Alma Malcolm, Kay Smyth, Charles Maunsell, Pam Christie.

Four Grade 11 girls were announced winners of Pitman short-hand awards for attaining a speed of 100 words per minute. The girls were Lucy Spark, Evelyn Lewis, Pat Sargent and Lollie Cameron.

Large block "V"s and bars were awarded to the following:
Track—Dorie Nunn, D. Chungmanes, W. George, E. Ngai, S.

Air Marshal To Come Here For Cadet Show

With the largest box-office sell-out in North America recorded at the opening night of the Air Cadet Show in Toronto, an outstanding success for the Victoria performance July 4 is assured. This prediction was made by Major R. H. B. Ker, director of the western division of the Air Cadet League of Canada, and local chairman for the entertainment which will be shown at key cities throughout Canada.

Major Ker spoke to a luncheon meeting Tuesday of committee members gathered in the Prince Albert Room of the Empress Hotel. Guest of honor was Miss Jeanne Melchers, press representative for Air Marshal "Billy" Bishop, V.C., who is sponsor of the Air Marshal Bishop Fund for the Air Cadet League of Canada. Others present were Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson, R.C.A.F., and Mrs. Stevenson; Filt. Lieut. Hobart Molson, R.C.A.F., and Mrs. Molson; Filt. Lieut. H. Canning, R.C.A.F.; Mesdames J. W. Lennox, Gibb Henderson, Bruce Mackenzie, Noel Eaton, H. W. Blenkinsop, W. F. S. Carter, and Messrs. Cliff Denham, Frank Paulding, Fred McGregor and A. Chestnut.

BISHOP HERE FOR SHOW

Air Marshal Bishop would be in Victoria personally for the show. Miss Melchers told the gathering. She then gave a brief resume of the two-and-a-half hour entertainment. Miss Anna Neagle, stage and screen star, will head the talented cast of Broadway and Hollywood artists, and, in company with Hollywood actor Herbert Marshall, will give Noel Coward's "Still Life" and a spectacular pageant of Queen Victoria called "The Lady Wishes to be Called Madam." The Air Cadet League of Canada will be featured in the finale. Between these two dramatic pieces will be a variety show featuring songs, dances and instrumental numbers by internationally well-known artists. The local R.C.A.F. Band will also be featured.

It was hoped to attain an air cadet corps here of 500 by the fall, Major Ker said, in introducing Miss Melchers, and it was to provide uniforms and equipment for the boys that the show was being staged. Seventy-five per cent of the receipts were to remain in the city, only 25 per cent going to headquarters in Ottawa. This latter would be redistributed to provide equipment for corps in smaller localities. Major Ker emphasized that all the performers and authors were donating their services and works free, as were also the Famous Players Corporation donating theatres across Canada. Federal and provincial amusement taxes had also been waived.

BOX-OFFICE NOW OPEN

Mr. McGregor spoke briefly, thanking Miss Melchers for her assistance with the show and also expressed the appreciation of the committee for the work of the various women's auxiliaries who had organized the ticket sales. The box office is now open in the ground floor of the Belmont Building.

Following the luncheon, Miss Melchers conferred with executives of the various women's groups.

By JIM KEARNEY

Make yourself comfortable in your easy chair, and then let your memory wander back 10 years ago to a wintry January day.

Do you remember a tremendous send-off, a send-off for 26 of Canada's finest English Rugby players, six of them Victoria boys, who were leaving on the Ss. Empress of Canada to play a series of matches with some of the best teams in Japan.

At the time this trip was supposed to create a deeper bond of friendship and understanding than had ever existed between Canadians and the Nips.

We got out the old files and found a souvenir book of the trip. Following are two choice passages, written in an all-understanding vein that seems hardly credible now.

T. Hachiya (we wonder where he is now?) Japanese Consul for British Columbia, wrote a few touching lines for the souvenir booklet: "On the eve of the departure of the All-Canada Rugby team to Japan, I take this opportunity of wishing the players and officials bon voyage and success. Their tour of Japan will be appreciated by citizens of both countries alike, promoting as it will, good-fellowship between our two nations." All this while the Japs thumbed their noses at the rest of the world and went on with their ruthless Manchurian invasion.

In that same souvenir book, R. P. Woodward, Secretary of the Rugby Union of Canada, wrote: "With the assured success of the present venture the officials of the Rugby Union of Canada feel that a new era in the athletic relations existing between Japan and Canada has been inaugurated and confidently look forward to the time when these mainly contests between the cream of the youth of the two countries will meet on the Rugby fields of Nippon and our great Dominion every second or third year from the present on."

You'll probably remember some of the Victoria fellows who made that trip... Bill Wharton, Frank Skillings, George Warnock, Campbell Forbes, Brian Hunnings and Johnny Rowland. Of the other 20, 12 were from Vancouver.

They won five of the seven games they played against the yellow men. On returning they agreed the Japs were good ruggerers, probably because it was one of the most universally played sports in the country. It seems Rugby was one of the few worthwhile things that nation of imitators copied from the civilized world.

Thanks to J. R. Terry of Mount Tolmie for this quickie. He writes that now walking has become fashionable again, result of necessity, a book published over 150 years ago showed that Scots were well in the fore even then. Writing to his patron, Capt. Barclay of Ury says: "One of my first pedestrian tests was my match with Capt. Fletcher of Balinshe. Forthshire, for a stake of 5,000 guineas ($25,000 in Canadian shekels) a side. I put myself in training under the celebrated Jackie Smith of Ouseston, Yorkshire, and owing to his skillful management I easily performed the task of walking 90 miles in 20 successive hours."

That, Mr. Terry adds, is an average of four and one-half miles an hour.

Brooklyn Not Outstanding

NEW YORK (AP)—Speaking from the detached viewpoint of a player who has been cast out of the league where he spent the best years of his baseball life and who hasn't yet become acquainted with his new circuit, Jimmy Fox figures that he may get into a pennant race before the season ends.

Jimmy points out cautiously that he has only seen three rival National League Clubs since he became a member of Chicago Cubs but he doesn't believe Brooklyn Dodgers are as outstanding a team as the Yankees in the American League. The way he looks at it the Dodgers are best, but both Cincinnati and St. Louis are capable of giving them a tussle and the Cubs, Giants and Pirates all have the stuff to make trouble.

"There ought to be a great scramble for places," he says. Just what part he may play in the scramble, Jimmy declines to say. He was limping around today with a painful Charley Horse—the first of his career.

"I shouldn't be playing, but Stan Hack broke a couple of ribs so I had to go in," he remarked.

So far, Jimmy hasn't been able to see much difference in the way American and National leagues play ball.

"I've seen a lot of soft stuff, if that's what they mean by calling the National a curve-ball league," he commented. "As far as I've seen, the American has better pitching, but I will say one thing—over here the young pitchers really pitch. They don't just rear back and throw."

Cubs May Get in Race

Twelve hundred people jammed into the Crystal Garden Tuesday night and helped a crowd of British airmen take over the building and make a huge success of the first R.A.F. entertainment festival in Victoria.

Featured by an aquatic taking in swimming, diving and water polo, and a dance in which floors at both ends of the building were used, the show did not break up until the early hours of the morning.

Although no official tally was kept, all events in the show were keenly contested and pleased the spectators. R.A.F. defeated a pick-up team 2 to 1 in the water polo match.

Y.M.C.A.'s Hugh Reston and Bob Montgomery, in ankle-length bathing suits, gave a comic exhibition of how not to dive from the high diving board.

Dancing was to the rhythm of the R.A.F. dance orchestra.

Reiser Sails Into One

He is currently leading National League batters with an average of .363.

Only 4½ Games Back

By Associated Press

This is just to let the happy govanus girls and boys in general and Larry MacPhail's Brooklyn Bums in particular in on a little secret... There really is another team in the National League.

The way the pats on the back are bouncing around the Flatbush side of the East River these days, no one seems to realize that the Dodgers may be in a fight for that pennant yet. But just in case its been overlooked over here, the St. Louis Cardinals are on the prowl. And with six wins in a row out of 14 out of their last 17, they are strictly not an outfit to be brushed off like a blonde hair on your coat lapel.

At any rate, the season's first "crosstalk" series is cooking up to start Thursday, when the used-to-be gas housers wheel their circus into Ebbets Field. At this writing, the Cards are just 4½ games away, having disposed of the Giants yesterday on the strength of Enos Slaughter's 10th-inning homer and some nifty relief elbowing by young Niz Beezley, the kid who is making the rest of the pitching staff look good. That two-hit, five-inning job was the first game the tall Tennessee has either won or saved in relief since the Cards started cooking with gas in their current run on May 25.

And, taking another chunk out of the same steak, it might be pointed out that the Red Sox, over in the American League, also can still make trouble, even if the New York Yankees are bouncing along on a nine-game lead after splitting their five-hour twin bill with Detroit Tuesday. For, the Red Sox, sparked by Lefty Judd's six-hit curving, knocked off the bewildered Browns from St. Louis 4 to 2 Tuesday night to run their winning streak to nine in a row.

YANKS BREAK EVEN

Over in the American League, the Yanks and Tigers put on something new—Starting a double header in Detroit at 3 p.m. The Bronx boys blew the first game 7 to 6 on Rudy York's 14th homer of the year and Jimmy Bloodworth's eighth. And they were on the way to kicking the afterpiece away when the Detroiters loaded the bases on Hank Borowy in the ninth inning. But Fireman Johnny Murphy arrived with his hook-and-ladder curve as usual to save a 5 to 3 decision and keep Borowy among the season's undefeated elbowers with five wins.

Completing the American League picture, rookie Orval Grove and husky Bob Harris hooked up in a tight tussle at Chicago under the lights, and Grove won out 2 to 1 as the White Sox nipped the Athletics on a ninth-inning run to climb into sixth place in the league standings. The Washington-Cleveland party was postponed.

PHILS WIN A GAME

Johnny Vander Meer and his "swift" and his slants just right at Boston and pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 5 to 0 victory over the Braves with a seven-hit performance. Another of the day's neat twirling jobs was the seven-hitter served up by Johnny Podgajny. The result was the Phillies ended their nine-game losing string by pounding Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 1.

A postponement kept the Sacramento Solons idle at Portland in the only other scheduled Coast League game.

San Diego opens a series at Seattle with a doubleheader set for tonight.

Services Beat Tiremen In Last Quarter Spree

V.M.D. Plays Army Tonight

First and last-place teams in the Victoria Baseball League will play at Athletic Park tonight. V.M.D., with only one defeat, and Army, with only one win, will match bats at 6.30.

That one win for Army, however, was in their last game, when they came out with a much improved line-up and surprised everyone by knocking over the highly-touted Pitzer and Nex crew. That same line-up will be on deck for tonight's game.

Eloyd Cann, their number one pitcher, is slated to start the game. One of the best in town, he has plenty of stuff on the ball, and can also control it. He should prove bothersome to V.M.D. heavy hitters, Harney, Restall, Patterson, Work and Euerby.

V.M.D. will start the game with Cy Shillito on the mound, and Laurel Harney behind the plate. Manager Pat Steele is using his top hurler to ensure victory and so broaden the gap between his team and the fast-closing second place Navy crew.

Goalie Bryant Hot Despite 25-14 Loss

Leading their opponents for three of the four quarters of Tuesday night's lacrosse battle at the Sports Centre, a short-handed Douglas Tire squad finally folded from sheer exhaustion in the final 15 minutes and let United Services pour in 16 goals to take a 25 to 14 decision.

Rough and fast the whole distance the game was one of the best crowd-pleasers of the season, but left the players, especially the tiremen, with bruises and cuts galore.

Even over-shadowing Services' barrage of last-quarter goals was the brilliant goal-tending of young Joe Bryant. Had it not been for Jumping Joe the servicemen would have taken the lead much earlier in the contest. For three quarters he had the Services' sharpshooters stumped. He repeatedly kicked out the best Jackie James, Earl McDonald, Art Mayo and Harry Minns had to offer.

NO PROTECTION

But in that disastrous final session he got no protection at all. Services put 16 past him, but he outguessed them on another 17. Altogether he blocked 46. This, coupled with the fact that Jimmie Ryan, in the Services' goal, had to stop only 20 shots for his share of the victory, almost broke Joe's heart.

Douglas Tire started the game with only three spares but played heady lacrosse, relying on breakaways to stretch their total. They jumped into an unexpected 5 to 2 lead in the first quarter. Services pressed hard during the whole of the session, but found Bryant almost unbeatable.

United Services dominated second-quarter play but couldn't close the gap. They had twice as many shots on goal as the tiremen but were only able to equal Gus Munroe's team's five goals. The servicemen were still playing every man for himself in lacrosse and most of the time the ball-carrier was cut down before he got within 30 feet of the goal. Score at half time was 10 to 7 for Douglas Tire.

ROUGH WORK

As if by mutual consent the teams started off in real rough and tumble style in the third canto. They didn't even warm up to it, but got going right from the whistle. Referees Buzz Brown and Henry Cockin, in one of their more beneficent moods, overlooked much of the slashing and hard cross-checking, and let the game get exciting.

Still able to keep up the pace the tiremen really worked in that quarter. The whole team played end to end for the entire 15 minutes, Andy Ovcharick, Gibb Stevens and Bobby Barr getting off the floor for no more than a minute or two.

They outscored Services three goals to two, but were a mighty tired bunch of lads when the last five-minute rest came. At three-quarter time the tally stood at 13 to 9.

In the first three minutes of the final canto Jackie James came through with a trio of markers and Harry Minns notched one to tie the game at 13 to 13. Little Bobby Barr put tiremen in the lead again at the 10-minute mark with a screen shot. Then James and Mayo scored a couple of quickies and Douglas Tire was no longer in the game.

India Leaders Discuss Move

By PRESTON GROVER
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Discussions which might have a tremendous effect on war operations in this part of the world are in progress at Wardha between Mohandas K. Gandhi and other major leaders of the All-India Congress Party.

After several days of conferences on whether steps should be taken to help or hinder the British war effort, three participants, Gandhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and the Congress president, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, would only say they were exploring one another's minds.

Both Azad and Nehru admittedly have disagreed on many points with Gandhi. Some observers say Nehru and Azad also disagree between themselves.

All are agreed on one aim—Independence. But a major issue is whether to attempt to achieve it immediately or to defer a showdown until the menace of Japanese invasion has abated.

GANDHI PLANS MOVE
Gandhi's contemplated course is another big issue. He has announced intentions of launching a new movement to be "felt by the whole world" and certain "to engage British attention" even if it perhaps does not interfere with British military operations.

Many veteran observers in India, both Indians and Occidentals, expressed belief that Gandhi, facing sharp factional disputes within the All-India Congress Party, was planning a deliberate clash with the authorities, with the attendant possibilities of jail and hunger strike.

Gandhi has used these means before not only to revitalize his following but to re-focus attention on himself.

If such a course should succeed

They'll Do It Every Time

as fully as it has in the past, it would throw out of gear all efforts of Nehru and others to centre attention at present on the Japanese threat.

Until recently Gandhi has been minimizing the danger from the Japanese, but lately he had moderated somewhat. Observers expressed belief either that Nehru had persuaded him to revise his public position or that his own sampling of Indian sentiment has convinced him there was stronger antagonism to Japan than he had suspected.

Dominion to Pay Japs' Costs East

TORONTO (CP)—The Dominion government is prepared to pay transportation costs to bring Canadian-born Japanese families from the Pacific coast to Ontario to help ease the farm labor shortage here, Ontario Labor Minister Peter Heenan has been informed in a telegram from Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, federal Minister of Labor.

Commenting on the telegram, Premier Hepburn said his government was prepared to co-operate to the fullest extent with the Dominion authorities. "It is entirely up to the Ontario farmers," the Premier said.

"If they want help, they can get it this way."

"These Japanese, after all, are Canadian-born and our way of life is their way of life," added the Premier, who disclosed that he has taken on 11 Japanese at his farm near St. Thomas.

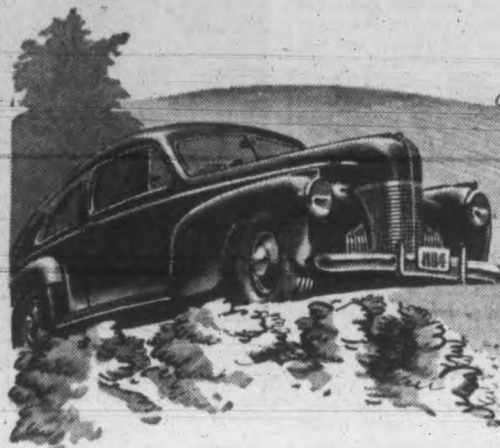

"They would be just as much strangers in Japan as we would. I have found them to be industrious and co-operative and anxious to help. When the war ends, as all wars do some time, the Dominion's offer to remove them will still stand."

Oak Bay High Presentations

Certificates, prizes, and senior awards were presented to graduates and students of Oak Bay High School Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium.

School officials present included C. H. Rutherford, acting chairman of the Board of School Trustees; D. H. Hartness, principal; A. Sullivan, inspector of B.C. high schools, and other school trustees.

Major awards were presented to J. Darling, heading Grade 12; Isobel Butters, Grade 11; Dorothy Tubbs, Grade 10; and Marlon Chapman, Grade 9. The school's merit cup, awarded for outstanding school citizenship, was won by Roberta Murray, and Robert Travis earned the Ion Ackland Cup for being the "best all-round sport of the school."

This latter cup made its first appearance this year, and was donated by Lieutenant Jack Grogan, in memory of his friend Ion Ackland, an ex-member of the school, who was killed recently while on active duty with the R.C.A.F. Robert Travis will hold the trophy for one year.

Prizes and awards were presented to the students by Mr. Rutherford. There were 72 in the graduating class.

"Among you graduates there are some of this country's future leaders," said Mr. Sullivan, in addressing the students. "Many of you will be serving your country in various capacities, and you will find that what you have learned here will be a sound foundation."

A short address by Archdeacon

A. E. de L. Nunns brought to the attention of the students the fact that no matter what job they undertook in the future, they would have to do it "with the help of God."

"A difficult task lies ahead of you, and may the work you do be constructive," he concluded.

Mr. Hartness, principal of the school, in his talk to the students, told of the work and achievements of the school during the past year.

"The number of pupils in the school," he stated, "has now reached 428, surpassing the enrollment of last year by more than 50. This growth in population has led to necessary changes in the curricula of the classes," he continued, "and now there are numerous opportunities for the non-academic pupil."

He stated that F. Lister, teacher of the school for the past 15 years, had left to join the R.C.A.F., and this instructor's absence was being felt by both pupils and the staff.

Remarks on the sports activities of the school, the principal said outside attractions such as work directly or indirectly connected with the war effort, had caused considerable disruption within the programs set out. Participation by the pupils in Air Cadet and First Aid activities was highlighted in his talk. In the report he stated that more than $1,000 worth of savings stamps had been sold during the term. An outline of social functions and sports events was given.

Tribute was paid to ex-members of the school who have given their lives in the war, and also to those now fighting on the war fronts of the globe.

In conclusion, Mr. Hartness told the graduating class not to become "money conscious" due to the abnormal prosperity brought about by the war.

LONDON (CP)—"Prolonged" military occupation of Germany after the war, together with heavy restriction of German political and military power, were advocated by Lord Vansittart Tuesday as the only means of preventing a recurrence of German attempts at world conquest. He spoke at a meeting of the "Pro Patria" Society, a Netherlands organization here. The session was attended by Netherlands Premier Pieter S. Oerbrandy and hundreds of his compatriots.

Premier to Take Air Cadet Salute

The Air Cadets of the Victoria area march past the Parliament Buildings during their downtown parade Saturday Premier John Hart will receive the salute.

The parade is being staged to publicize the coming visits of the "Celebrity Parade," with Anna Neagle and Air Vice-Marshal Bishop, July 4, at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

The Air Cadets will assemble for the parade at the Safeway parking lot, north of the Hudson's Bay Co., on Douglas Street, where they will be inspected before moving off through town. It is urgent that every uniformed cadet make every effort to be present on the parade and it is hoped that employers will release air cadets desirous of being on parade for the short time needed for the march through town.

The time of assembly is 1.30 p.m., with the parade starting off along Douglas Street at 2 p.m. The route of the march will be along Douglas Street to Yates and thence to Government Street to the Parliament Buildings. After saluting the Premier, the cadets will march along Belleville Street to Yates and Douglas Streets. Dismissal will be at Yates and Vancouver Streets.

It is hoped that the R.C.A.F. band from Patricia Bay will be in attendance.

Peanuts Among War Shortages

Peanuts, peanut butter, tuna fish, crab meat and shrimps are among the products hit by war, Victoria retailers reported today. Tuna fish being eliminated and the supply of crab meat being low. A shipment from India averted a blackout of peanuts and peanut butter.

NOT MUCH TEA

The tea situation is becoming serious, and some dealers thought the introduction of coupons was necessary to assure an even distribution of stocks on hand. War risk charges now placed on tea make it nearly impossible to handle it, some of them said. A ceiling price has been placed on tea, this ranging from 80 cents to $1.25, according to the brand. Any changes in these prices are determined by the Wartime Prices and Control Board.

Tea had been coming to Canada from Java, India and Ceylon. These bases are now cut off. The armed forces are considered first, and use tons of tea and coffee.

The coffee situation is the same as tea. Brazil provided 75 per cent of the supply, and again the transportation facilities are causing the existing shortage.

'Overseas Draft Would Harm Efforts'—Thorson

OTTAWA (CP)—War Services

Minister Thorson said this afternoon in the House of Commons introduction of conscription for overseas service at present would be harmful to the war effort.

He said Canada is nearing complete mobilization of her manpower and care should be taken to maintain a proper balance between the armed forces and other essential war services.

"In my opinion the imposition of conscription for service overseas at the present time would definitely be harmful to the war effort," Mr. Thorson said.

"The people of Canada are more concerned with the achievement of results than with the application of theories and the actions of the government will be governed accordingly."

PRODUCTION

There were three primary objectives to Canada's total war effort: production of materials of war, production of food and raising and equipping armed forces.

"If we are to make a maximum war effort we must not lose sight of any of these objectives," the minister said. "We must attain them concurrently as far as that is possible to do. Each step that is taken must be carefully considered in the light of its effect on the totality of our war effort."

"An attempt has been made to identify conscription for overseas service with total war effort. There is no necessary connection between the two."

Club Declares War Against Hindrances

A declaration of "war against the hindrances of Canada's war effort" was made by members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday. This declaration is in line with similar action being taken in the United States.

A letter from Charles C. Donnelly, international president of the organization, was read by Ken Ferguson, saying many people were confused as to how they could assist the war effort "the hind the lines."

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse said impendable happenings of the war to date have saved the Allies in their time of need. He mentioned the entry of Russia into the war, saying that this was one of the "impendable things" which had not been seen or predicted before it actually happened.

GREATEST BLUNDER

"This invasion of Russia on Hitler's behalf will go down in the pages of history as one of the greatest blunders of any one responsible man," Dr. Whitehouse said.

"The future depends not only on the might of our known forces, but also on the happenings which we at present cannot see," Dr. Whitehouse concluded.

In the absence of Alastair Campbell, president, who is attending the Kiwanis International convention being held in Cleveland, Ohio, M. Martin-Dale, vice-president, was in the chair. The meeting was in honor of the convention.

Fewer Car Accidents

Motor car accidents in May, the first month in which the Dominion speed law of 40 miles per hour was enforced, showed a slight decrease as compared with April when 349 accidents occurred and a drop of 44.7 per cent as against May, 1941, when the number of accidents totaled 612.

There were 304 persons injured in car accidents in May of last year, including 8 deaths. Last month, however, injuries dropped to 181, or a decrease of 44.4 per cent. Deaths, however, increased to 12 by the drowning of six Indians in the Okanagan when their car was swept into the flood waters. Property damage in May, 1941, totaled $74,237.07 as against $40,927.91 last month, a decrease of 44.8 per cent.

Licenses in force in May of last year totaled 114,931. Last month they dropped 2.5 per cent to 112,056.

Government Appointments

Appointments by provincial order-in-council this week follow: John R. Tindall of Refuge Cove, notary public; Arthur Rankin, juvenile judge, Kamloops City; David W. Rowlands, juvenile judge, Kamloops electoral district; Osmond G. Estabrook, stipendiary magistrate, County of Cariboo; Peter Mathison, Nelson, justice of the peace.

$250,000 'Cash Money' Goes Begging in B.C.

Premier John Hart, as Minister of Finance, and officials of his department are scratching their heads in bewilderment and perplexity these days.

They have approximately $250,000 belonging to the public and the public doesn't seem even remotely interested in collecting it.

This money is in government coffers, collected the first six months of 1941 as 1 per cent tax. Now the taxpayers are entitled to get it back. About 125,000 persons have come forward to collect about $750,000, but there is still a big sum left, unclaimed and apparently unwanted.

Today the Premier announced that his department has decided that immediately after June 30, the final date advertised for receiving applications, the income tax commissioner will send notices to all those entitled to refunds in excess of $1. These notices will be mailed to the address stated by the employers, wherever sufficient address has been given. The notice will draw to the attention of the person that he appears to be entitled to a refund. Attached to the notice will be the usual form for the applicant to fill out.

"It is hoped by this method to give every person entitled to a refund an opportunity to obtain it by taking the necessary steps," the Premier said. "This new procedure naturally entails a large amount of extra work for the department. Many difficulties confront treasury officials in refunding these deductions. For very obvious reasons they cannot be made in a haphazard manner, without carefully checking."

Commented income tax commissioner C. B. Peterson, as he scratched his head, "it's as big a headache, apparently, to pay money back as it is to collect money."

Mine Production Up $2,778,564

B.C.'s mine production in 1941 was $78,479,719, an increase of $2,778,564 over 1940, according to the annual report of the Mines Department, released today by Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Mines.

The province last year produced 1,802,353 tons of coal, valued at $7,660,000, the report says. Since 1936 the province has produced 97,859,813 tons of coal, valued at $399,107,367.

Gold production last year, according to the minister's report, totaled $23,370,463 — $1,385,962 placer and $21,984,501 lode. Since 1858 the province has produced gold valued at $383,250,826.

Last year 15,083 men were employed in all mining activities in this province. Of this total 2,723 persons were employed in and around coal mines. There were four fatal accidents during the year compared with six the year before. The ratio of fatal accidents per 1,000 persons employed was 1.47 as compared with 2.08 for 1940. The number of fatal accidents per 1,000,000 tons produced during 1941 was 2.21; in 1940 it was 3.65.

Output of Vancouver Island collieries last year was 647,958 tons. Of this amount 102,184 tons, or 15.7 per cent, was lost in preparation for the market; 552,810 tons was sold in the competitive market.

Last year mines employed $141,454,342 in capital; paid $26,050,491 in salaries; used $3,776,747 in fuel and electricity and $7,260,441 on process supplies.

Students Released

High School students, with the exception of those writing university entrance, senior matriculation and certain lower grade examinations, were released for the summer vacation in the Greater Victoria region today.

The examinations will continue for the next two weeks. Under the existing system no general tests are required from lower grade High School students, but those who have not made the required standards in certain subjects are permitted to write papers to prove their ability to proceed to a higher class for next year's work.

The regular closing day for grade schools occurs later in the month.

Kiwanians Told Of Canada's Effort

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—Delegates to the Kiwanis International's annual convention learned about Canada's war effort today.

Miss Charlotte E. Whitton of Ottawa, consultant for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said "over half of the Canadian population in industrial occupations is now at work on supplies of war."

Nearly three years' warfare "is bringing to the people of Canada, though all too slowly, a realization that total war demands that all the resources of a nation—her manpower, materials and wealth—be used for fighting to victory," Miss Whitton said.

"Division of income is inevitable, through taxes, loans and savings. Canadian taxation is high all along the line. Five times as many people pay five times as many taxes as before the war. Yet never in our history have donations to religious and charitable endeavors been greater."

(Alastair Campbell and Harold Duggan are Victoria delegates attending the Cleveland convention.)

B.C. Medicos Elect 2 Victoria Doctors

Dr. P. A. C. Cousland and Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, both of Victoria, were elected vice-president and director, respectively, of the B.C. division of the Canadian Medical Association at their annual meeting of Jasper, Alta., Tuesday night.

Dr. A. Howard Spohn of Vancouver was chosen president and other officers elected were: Dr. Herbert McGregor, Penikese, vice-president; Dr. Gordon O. Matthews, Vancouver, honorary secretary-treasurer; directors, Dr. Murray Blair, Vancouver; Dr. K. Stuart Daly, Trail; Dr. W. Ewart Henderson, Chilliwack, and Dr. A. H. Menelly, Nanaimo.

The British Columbia doctors are holding their annual sessions simultaneously with the 73rd annual meeting of the parent body and more than 100 delegates from the Pacific coast are present. At the B.C. meeting, last year's activities were reviewed and various topics discussed. Dr. C. H. Hankinson, Prince Rupert, president for the past year, was chairman.

Newsprint Output Cut in B.C. Plants

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—The manufacture of newsprint in the Powell River Company's plant will be cut by an average of 140 tons daily beginning the week of June 22 and continuing for five weeks thereafter, the management announced today.

A shortage of stocks of hemlock logs and loss of the "curragating board" business because of changes in United States government specifications are given as the reasons for curtailing output.

A staggered schedule has been arranged for the paper machine shutdown. Employees affected weekly have the choice of taking a paid vacation or being placed in other departments. The manufacture of pulp will continue at capacity. The plant's daily output of newsprint is normally 725 tons.

Lieutenant Faces Trial

GUILDFORD, Eng. (CP)—Charged with the murder of Pte. Charles Reginald Tapley of Saint John, N.B., Lieut. William Hemmant, 39, of London, today was committed for trial at the assizes beginning June 29. He pleaded not guilty.

Tapley was fatally wounded June 4. Police testified that Hemmant said on his way to the police station after the shooting: "He had taken my wife."

The prosecution charged Tapley and Mrs. Hemmant while walking on the street met Hemmant and that several minutes later the officer drew his revolver and fired five or six shots, three of which struck the Canadian soldier.

At Recruiting Rally

Deputy ministers of all departments in the provincial government here were asked today to notify all men under 50 years of age in their departments that they were expected to attend a recruiting rally in the Crystal Garden this afternoon, where they will be addressed by Lt.-Col. H. E. Goodman, district recruiting officer.

It is hoped that a substantial number will join the Reserve Army, although it was explained no coercion will be employed to that end. Provincial policemen are excluded from the invitation to attend.

Women wishing to register for work with the voluntary workers in connection with the ration campaign are asked to phone B-3814, in room 311 in the Central Building.

CLAIMS FEES

The action of J. Graham Johnson, Victoria architect, against Ben Grossman for $823 allegedly due him in architect fees for the Wavell Apartments, Hollywood Crescent, opened before Mr. Justice Manson in Supreme Court Chambers today.

A counter-claim is made by the defendant for damages on the grounds sewer connections were inadequate, that garage space was insufficient, that provision for conversion of basement space into an extra suite was not proper and that arrangements for the janitor's quarters were inadequate.

Mr. Johnson, testifying today, said he had advised the owner to lower the lateral which provides a sewer connection for the apartment house to the sewer but that Mr. Grossman had refused. He said provision had been made to house six cars in the garage and Mr. Grossman had noted he could build outdoor accommodation for extra vehicles. Mr. Johnson further testified changes in the janitor's quarters had been ordered and arranged by Mr. Grossman with the contractor after the owner had rejected specifications for the change presented by Mr. Johnson.

Fight Canceled

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fight promoter Jack Price said today the July 4 re-match of Vancouver's Ken Lindsay with Lou Salica of Brooklyn for the latter's world bantamweight crown had been canceled because of financial difficulties.

Lindsay's manager, Arnold Bertram, said Toronto promoter Jack Allen had written him proposing a Lindsay-Salica championship go in Toronto. The pair met here in a non-title affair two weeks ago, with Salica taking a 10-round decision.

'Canadians Fighting
For Selves'—Godbout

MONTREAL (CP)—Only a
"united and total effort can save this country from the horrors and terrorism which now afflict the nations of Europe," Premier God-bout of Quebec said Tuesday night in an address at the annual dinner of the Montreal Reform Club.

"The peril is at our doors," said Mr. Godbout, adding that "only a close union of all Canadians, irrespective of origin or creed, can achieve this end (victory), in full co-operation with Canada's allies."

He said Canadians are not fighting for England or any other of the United Nations.
They are fighting with England and the Allies to save their liberties, their religion and their ideals.

British House Votes
$4,450,000,000

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons voted a new £1,000, 000,000 ($4,450,000,000) credit for war purposes today at the request of Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who said it brought Britain's total authorizations during "the costliest war in history" to £10,050, 000,000 ($44,700,000,000).

Britain's rate of government expenditure recently has risen to £84,250,000 a week, Sir Kingsley added.

He said that votes of credit already given, not counting the new request, exceeded the total of those granted from 1914 to 1919 by £300,000,000.

"This is by far the costliest war in history, but this does not dismay us," declared the Chancellor. "There will be no faltering in the financial or any other sphere."

Nazis Still Believe
In German Victory

LONDON (CP)—Paul Winter-ton, BBC correspondent in Russia, reports that although he talked for hours to dozens of German prisoners in a Russian camp, "he found no real disbelief in a German victory."

Winterton said he had the feeling that if a German officer marched in and gave a sharp order, "in five seconds these prisoners would be a fighting unit once again, and would cheerfully go out into the neighboring village and start smashing, burning and looting all over again."

Winterton said his conclusion was that many of the German prisoners, particularly the young men, are impervious to new ideas and have gained nothing from their decent treatment in the prison camp.

Sailors Smash Window

A large plateglass window of the store of David Spencer Ltd.
was shattered early this morning when what appears to have been a pop bottle was hurled into it by two sailors who were subsequently seen running away on View Street. The incident was reported to city police at 1.30 this morning.

ST. JOHN'S A.Y.P.A.

On Sunday, St. John's A.Y.P.A. entertained 35 athletic apprentices with an afternoon of games and sing-songs. Later a sit-down supper was enjoyed. Mr. Bill Marshall arranged for cars to bring up the guests. The committee in charge for the afternoon consisted of Wendy Perkins, Juanita Perkins, Gwen Nicholson,
Doreen Le Vack and Molly Brinkman.

The usual Sunday evening
sing-song was held after church service with many of the guests of the afternoon attending. Miss Mary Wilson was convener. Mr.
Bill Marshall leading the singing.
Mr. George Green gave cornet solos, accompanied by Mrs. Green and Mr. Arthur Jackman entertained with vocal solos.

Dr. C. S. Beals, designer of the Beals home-made respirator, will address a meeting at the Oak Bay High School at 8 Friday night on "War Gases." At the meeting, which is being sponsored by the Oak Bay A.R.P., motion pictures will also be shown.

RIO THEATRE

Long an admirer of Mark Twain, Slim Summerville has unconsciously incorporated the rugged, grim humor of the frontiersman in his picture roles.
In "Puddin' Head," now showing at the Rio Theatre, he plays the backwoods "paw" of Judy

Canova, who shares her vicissitudes and triumphs when she goes to the big city.

Don't be the missing man.

Spencer Tracy
In Atlas Picture

Four winners of Academy Awards, a record number for a single picture, contributed their outstanding artistic talents to the filming of Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's "Woman of the Year," coming to the Atlas screen tomorrow.

First is Spencer Tracy, two-time Academy Award winner for his performances of Father Flanagan in "Boys Town" and Manuel in "Captains Courageous." His co-star, Katharine Hepburn, won her Oscar for "Morning Glory," and was a candidate for the award in 1940 for "The Philadelphia Story."

"JEZEBEL" WINNER

Fay Bainter, who heads the supporting cast, was an award winner for her featured player performance in "Jezebel."

CAPITOL THEATRE

When you look at Walter Cat-lett's roles today, it is a little hard to believe that the comedian made his theatrical start in so airy-fairy an affair as "Brownies In Fairyland," back in 1906.
But he did, and look how he turned out!

Walter gets another slicker role 20th Century-Fox's Technicolor musical "My Gal Sal," which is at the Capitol Theatre, starring Rita Hayworth and Victor Mature.

DOMINION THEATRE

Jerry Colonna is making eyes at Judy Canova in Paramount's riotous army life lowdown, "True to the Army," which is at the Dominion Theatre. And when Colonna makes eyes, those rolling marbles are something to see and howl at!

In "True to the Army," Allan
Jones and Ann Miller help Colonna hide his Judy in an army camp out of reach of gangsters who are after her because she saw them kill a man. Colonna tries to make an army man of her for the duration, but the hoax doesn't last long.

CADET THEATRE

If Richard Fraser's movie career turns out to be successful—and his performance in his first film role in Richard Llewellyn's
"How Green Was My Valley," the current attraction at the Cadet Theatre, was outstanding—the nine months he spent in Florida writing a novel may go to waste.

After several seasons of stage work, Fraser gave it up to hibe-nate in Florida and write the "Great American Novel." His task was just about half finished when production chief Darryl F.
Zanuck asked him to come to Hollywood for the role of Davey.

Canova, who shares her vicissitudes and triumphs when she goes to the big city.

Don't be the missing man.

Ziegfeld Girl
Coming to York

For lavishness of production,
"Ziegfeld Girl," coming to the York Theatre tomorrow for a three-day engagement, is heralded as eclipsing even its predecessor,
"The Great Ziegfeld." From its all-star galaxy of names, its beautiful girls, down to the last detail of setting and costumes, elaborateness has been its keynote, according to Robert Z.
Leonard, who directed both films.

This, despite the trend of modern times away from elaborate productions since the popularity of the family series, the simple drama, and outdoor sagas, he points out. According to the veteran director, times of stress and eras of world upheavals serve as a magnet to musical productions. "Ziegfeld Girl" answers the 1941 problem.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

A horror role to rival his infamous "Dracula" is played again by Bela Lugosi in Universal's erie horror drama, "The Ghost of Frankenstein," now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

Lugosi re-creates the role of "Ygor," mad shepherd who survives a hanging which has broken his neck, and who be-friends the Frankenstein Monster.

"Ygor" seems destined to become a "favorite" of horror fans, and Lugosi hopes that the history of his "Dracula" interpretation will not repeat itself with "Ygor."

The stage and screen versions of "Dracula" brought Lugosi fame, but they also plunged him into oblivion. Following his portrayal of the vampire, Lugosi was "typed" in horror films and, his scope limited, the actor was almost lost to the screen for several years.

"Son of Frankenstein" offered Lugosi a "comeback" role in 1939, however, and his career was resumed.

Don't be the missing man.

Bowery Mazie Quits Theatre To Write Book

NEW YORK (AP)—The bums of the Bowery have lost their platinum blonde shepherdess. Mazie Phillips of the Venice Theatre, who used to demand (and pay for) baths for her customers before she'd let them in.

Mazie is writing a book and she's quit her job because, she says, "I wanna do good."

The evangelical tone of her cigarette-husky voice would break the heart of any of the down-and-outers to whom she once barked: "The world is all smitched up, but I'm not goin' to have you bums lousin' up the theatre. Here's a quarter. Go take a bath and come back."

But she insists that "all the money I make on the book is goin' on them poor bums. I ain't had a chance to tell them yet."

And her new spirit hasn't carried her to the point of believing in organized charity—yet.

"I'm not out to knock missions or such," she says, in her apartment under the shadow of the Brooklyn Bridge. "But you ain't goin' to get a bum in a mission if there's a gutter to sleep in."

Her book is based on the experience of 30 years of brisk friendship with drifters, and she intends to give her observations on dirt, among other things.

"Dirt's healthy," says Mazie. "That's why them old bums live so long."

AID MAYOR'S FUND

Mayor Andrew McGavin today acknowledged with thanks a cheque for $100 from the Queen City Chapter No. 5, Order of the Eastern Star, for the Lord Mayor's Fund to help victims of bombing in Britain.

Praises Local A.R.P.

Inspector S. F. M. Moodie of the advisory council of the provincial civilian protection committee, Vancouver, in a letter received Monday by Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, congratulated him for the efficiency of the A.R.P. practice conducted last Wednesday night.

"I have a long and interesting report submitted by Constable M. Cramond," Inspector Moodie wrote, "of this branch regarding your exercise on June 11. Constable Cramond states, amongst other things, 'Inspector Bishop is to be commended for a fine organized system of air precaution service.'"

FRENCH RECITAL

Pupils of her French class held an informal recital at the home of Mrs. N. Ritchie, Government Street, Monday afternoon, the program including readings, conversation, songs and games in French by the children. Mme. Nanaimo M.P. Describes Coventry After 'Blitz'

A picture of England under the stress of war is given in a letter written by Lieut. Alan Chambers, M.P. for Nanaimo to his wife, residing at Gordon Head. The letter shows the M.P.'s continued interest in Parliamentary matters despite the preoccupation of a military life, and apart from actual descriptions of the effect of the blitz on such places as Coventry gives a deep insight into English psychology of the present day. The letter follows:

"London—On my leave I arranged with the Empire Parliamentary Association, who were very kind to me, to visit Coventry, Birmingham and Liverpool. There is no harm in my writing and telling you about it, because the papers at home will no doubt have already printed something on it.

"I left on the Thursday from the House of Commons, where I met Capt. Strickland, who is the M.P. for Coventry, and we went by train to Coventry that afternoon. His car met us and we went to his home in the country, where I stayed the night with him. The next day, Friday, in the morning we went all through Coventry and saw the ruins from the blitz. You remember how terrible the raids were there. Well, you can't imagine the results.

"I think it would be against security to tell you about the actual damage, but I can tell you that although Coventry is a big industrial centre, the Germans obviously didn't care very much about the armament factories but simply attempted with calculated ferocity to smash the homes of the people and the city itself, their object apparently being to terrorize the civilians. That they failed is a tremendous tribute to the people of this city.

CATHEDRAL SAD SIGHT

One of the saddest sights was the complete ruin of what was one of the finest cathedrals in England, dating from about 1250. The Dean or Provost (as they call him at this cathedral) took us around and afterwards gave me a few pieces of stained glass from the debris and a hand-wrought nail from the Cappers Chapel, one of the old guild chapels. Capt. Strickland showed me the new General Hospital completed just as the war broke out. It was a complete ruin. On a moonlight night the German air force dive-bombed it from only a few feet up. They must have known it was a hospital—they couldn't have mistaken it. Many doctors and nurses were killed but the others carried on under unbelievable circumstances while the city burned around them from countless incendiary bombs. The water mains were smashed from the high explosive and so, of course, many of the incendiaries burned freely.

LIEUT. ALAN CHAMBERS, M.P.

STRANGE INCIDENTS

"They told me strange tales of incidents during this blitz. Apparently the large high-explosive bombs act in strange ways. No two bombs burst the same way. For example, a bomb hit a house. The man and his wife were in bed asleep at the time. The bomb sheared off the front of the house, thus causing the floor to slope from the horizontal. The bed slid down the sloping bedroom floor and into the street below, landed right way up with the husband and wife still in it. They were unhurt but covered in dust and pieces of plaster.

"Another incident concerned a man who was in his bath when a high explosive hit the house full on and completely demolished it. It was just a heap of bricks, stones and broken furniture, with clouds of dust all over it. The rescue squads worked feverishly through the heap of ruins that had been a house a few minutes ago. Then underneath their feet they heard a cry. They redoubled their efforts, and lo, at the bottom of the heap was the man in question underneath the bath, which had been turned completely upside down by the explosion which had blown him under it. As soon as they started to pull him out he let out a yell, they thought he was badly hurt, but he was only trying to tell them for Pete's sake to get him some pants as he was, of course, stark naked. Thousands of people were not so fortunate. I do not need to tell you of the mass burials that followed the raids.

"We spent all morning seeing the ruins and then were received by the mayor, with whom we were photographed. I signed the book and the mayor took us to lunch out in the country. He couldn't take us to a hotel for lunch, because there are no hotels left. But we had a very good lunch out in the country. (I enclose herewith a clipped photograph from the Coventry paper for the scrapbook.) Then after lunch we went back to Capt. Strickland's for an hour or so and then to Lord Illife's to meet the new Archbishop of Canterbury. He is a very nice fellow, seems to have progressive opinions on social reform which I was glad to note, and is definitely a strong character. At this place we had tea together with the leading industrialists of the city, and were later addressed for about an hour by the Archbishop. Extremely interesting and very worthwhile.

"About six the same evening (Friday) I drove to Birmingham in a car sent for me by Sir Patrick Hannon, M.P. for the Moseley division of Birmingham, the senior member for the city. He is a delightful old Irishman. He took me to dine with the lord mayor of Birmingham, where we met the Chinese Ambassador and Lord Cecil of Chelwood, who you may remember was one of the main founders of the League of Nations. He is now an old man, but still lives in hope of seeing the League revived.

"This was the day that it had been announced that the Japs had cut the Burma road, the lifeline of Chinese supplies. The ambassador, Dr. Wellington Koo, couldn't have been very happy, but certainly seemed cheerful. However, it is pretty hard to read the thoughts of the Chinese. We got to bed at about midnight and I was pretty tired with a long day. I stayed at the Adelphi Hotel and so did Sir Patrick

WAR PRODUCTION

"The next day (Saturday) he took me to the B.S.A. works, of which he is chairman, and I saw a lot of very interesting things in the way of war production which I can't tell you, as it would be against security regulations. You would be amazed, as I was, if you could see them. Birmingham has been knocked about by blitzing, but it is a very big city, unlike Coventry, which is about one-fifth the size of Birmingham. After looking at factories all morning we went to lunch at the Birmingham Conservative Club, where we had a small and select luncheon party in my honor. Sir Patrick put himself out, and we had an excellent lunch. I met there the Earl of Dudley, who is the regional commissioner at Birmingham. His second son is a boy at Shawnigan Lake School, where he has been since the war started, so we had something in common. He is a very nice chap, and apparently a good administrator in spite of his title. He has a very beautiful place in the country in Warwickshire, one of the finest old homes in England. I am told. He was kind enough to ask me to stay there whenever I had a few days' leave. Told me just to wire him 24 hours ahead. It wasn't just a polite invitation, he really meant it—so perhaps if I get a couple of days I will run up there. At the moment it doesn't seem likely, though. Too much to do.

"In the evening we went all over Dudley's headquarters. Aircraft defences, fire fighting, etc. Can't tell you about that, though, because it, too, is against security. In the afternoon we had looked over more factories until I was tired out tramping through them. After we got through at Dudley's H.Q. Sir Patrick insisted on showing me the girls' hostels that he has fostered. They were very interesting. And it was like old times to see a politician at work visiting his constituency. We got to bed at about midnight after visiting three of them, and I was really tired. Had to get up in the morning and catch the train which left for Liverpool around nine in the morning. Arrived there and was met by Sir John Shute, M.P. for the Exchange division of Liverpool, a big cotton broker and a very interesting old gentleman.

LIKED GOOD FOOD

"He took me out to his country home, about five miles out on the Cheshire side of the river at a place called Hooten. Very pretty there. We went under the Mersey through the Mersey tunnel, which is about three miles long and really one of the wonders of the world. I was glad of the opportunity to rest in the afternoon and evening. The old gentleman is a bachelor but keeps a good table. Has his own hens and fruit, etc. Good grub. Appreciated—and how! On Monday morning I went right through the whole Merseyside dock system after meeting the port authorities. It was most interesting. Had lunch with the port commissioner, a remarkable fellow who would be worth a very long letter all to himself if I could repeat the tales he told me, and also what other people told me about him. "Apparently he has a large stud farm near here. He has invited me to run over for a day, although I don't know that I shall ever have time, as all my spare time is spent in study. I have never worked so hard at books in my life, or at least since I was 17.

FIRST AIR RAID

While I was in Liverpool I was in my first air raid. It was a great disappointment. In the first place, I didn't know that it was on, as I arrived in the city after the warning sirens had gone. And in the second place apparently it was only one German plane, and a Polish officer in the Royal Air Force went up and shot it down in jig time. Very good men the Poles. Fox told me about one Pole who was an air gunner in a bomber and who was given leave for 48 hours and went off to the local town nearest where he was stationed to get himself a couple of drinks (or what they call drinks here) and put up there for the week-end. On the Sunday morning one of his pals dropped in at the hotel and told him they were going over to bomb the Huns at Rostock. So this fellow said, 'Oh, to hell with my leave; I can't miss a chance to kill some Huns,' and he jumped in the car and tottled back to the airport and that evening did an operational bombing flight over North Germany and blew some Huns to hell. Most of the Poles are like that.

"Well, to go back to my visit to Liverpool. In the afternoon of Monday, I went over the new giant cathedral at Liverpool which is being built there by Sir Giles Scott, the famous architect. They have been building since 1904, and the main tower and about half the body of the church is now finished. It is estimated that it will take about another 40 years to complete the whole thing. It is larger than St. Paul's and far more beautiful. It is built of a rose red sandstone, and I can say conscientiously that it is the most beautiful thing I have ever seen in my life. It is magnificent. It is a wonderful thought that such a magnificent building can be built in this day and age. The craftsmanship and the design are superb. Simple and strong. Nothing gaudy or rococo about it; superb. I wish you could have been with me to see it. Perhaps we shall see it together some time.

"On Tuesday morning I left Liverpool with Sir John and came by train to London and picked up the letter from you."

Whatever your washing method . . .

you need Sunlight's "EXTRA-SOAPINESS" for those extra dirty parts

When clothes come to the wash some parts are more soiled than others. These "extra dirty" parts need special treatment to get them clean.

As no doubt you know from your own wash-day experience, the very dirty parts of clothes are by far the most difficult to get really clean. Any cleanser—powders, flakes or bar soap—will remove the ordinary dirt. But wherever grime is concentrated you can't do without the Sunlight Soap method of washing clothes.

Sunlight safely gets the dirt from the extra soiled parts because of its "extra-soapiness," which enables you to get right at the stubborn dirt at once. There is no need to rub the soap hard. Just a light touch is sufficient to leave a thin film of Sunlight in contact with the dirt; sufficient, too, to remove the last tiny speck of grime. Women who use the Sunlight method have found it the easiest, safest and most thrifty way of getting clothes clean and white.

With household cleaning, as well as washing, Sunlight's "extra-soapiness" gives real help. A touch of Sunlight wherever dirt is troublesome loosens it instantly and removes it completely. And Sunlight is as gentle to your hands as it is to the finest fabrics. It is all good soap right through.
